

Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12866

Because no notice of proposed rulemaking is required, the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) do not apply. This amendment does not meet the criteria for a “significant regulatory action” as specified in Executive Order 12866.

There is no new collection of information required in this document; therefore, the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3507) are inapplicable.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Discussion of Comments and Changes

In the notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM), the proposed rule was to be published at 32 CFR 310.13(e)(3). DoD is now publishing this rule at 32 CFR 310.13(e)(9). The proposed rule published in the Federal Register on December 16, 2020 (85 FR 81438–81439). Comments were accepted for 60 days until February 16, 2021. One comment was received. Please see the summarized comment and the Department’s response as follows:

DoD received one substantive comment on the NPRM. The commenter voiced concern regarding the classification process within the DoD. Although this comment does not directly pertain to the Privacy Act and the exemption claimed for this SORN, to promote public understanding in this area, a description of the DoD classification process is provided in this preamble.

Executive Order 13526 prescribes the framework for the Federal government (to include DoD) to classify national security information. Only DoD personnel who are delegated original classification authority in writing are authorized to review the DoD’s information and make the initial decision that an item of information could reasonably be expected to cause identifiable or describable damage to the national security if it were disclosed to the public. Several oversight and compliance safeguarding mechanisms exist to ensure the process to classify information is appropriate.

These existing safeguarding mechanisms include the following: Personnel authorized to make original classification determinations are required to receive training in proper classification, including the avoidance of over-classification, and declassification at least once a calendar year. Additionally, information may only be classified if it pertains to specific categories or subjects, including military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities. Furthermore, agency heads must (on a periodic basis) complete a comprehensive review of the agency’s classification guidance, to include reviewing information that is classified within the agency; provide the results of such review to appropriate officials outside the agency at the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA); and release an unclassified version of the review to the public. Authorized holders of classified information are also encouraged and expected to “challenge” classification determinations if they believe the classification status is improper, and any individual or entity can request any Federal agency to review classified information for declassification, regardless of its age or origin, in accordance with the Mandatory Declassification Review (MDR) process. Additional information about the MDR process can be found on the NARA’s MDR program page at <https://www.archives.gov/isoo/training/mdr>. In the interest of protecting information critical to the Nation’s defense, it is appropriate for the DoD to properly classify and exempt such information from public release under the Privacy Act so as to protect U.S. national security.

Having considered the public comment, the DoD will implement the rulemaking without any changes resulting from the comment. However, DoD will make one corrective edit to 32 CFR 310.13(e)(9)(iii)(A). In the prior NPRM, records in that paragraph were referenced as “common enterprise records,” a term that does not appear in the DoD–0003 system of records notice nor necessarily apply to records in the MDMIS. The final rule removes this description and simply references “records in this system.”

Background

In finalizing this rule, DoD exempts portions of the updated and reissued DoD-0003 MDMIS system of records from certain provisions of the Privacy Act. DoD uses this system of records to automate financial and business transactions, perform cost-management analysis, produce oversight and audit reports, and provide critical data linking to improve performance of mission objectives. This system of records supports DoD in creating predictive analytic models based upon specific data streams to equip decision makers with critical data necessary for execution of fiscal and operational requirements. Some of the records that are part of the DoD-0003 MDMIS system of records may contain classified national security information and disclosure of those records to an individual may cause damage to national security. The Privacy Act, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1), authorizes agencies to claim an exemption for systems of records that contain information properly classified pursuant to executive order. For this reason, DoD has exempted portions of the DoD-0003 MDMIS system of records from the access and amendment requirements of the Privacy Act, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1), to prevent disclosure of any information properly classified pursuant to executive order, including Executive Order 13526, as implemented by DoD Instruction 5200.01 and DoD Manual 5200.01, Volumes 1 and 3. This rule will deny an individual access under the Privacy Act to only those portions of records for which the claimed exemption applies. In addition, records in the DoD-0003 MDMIS system of records are only exempt from the Privacy Act to the extent the purposes underlying the exemption pertain to the record.

Regulatory Analysis

Executive Order 12866, “Regulatory Planning and Review” and Executive Order 13563, “Improving Regulation and Regulatory Review”

Executive Orders 12866 and 13563 direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects, distribute impacts, and equity). Executive Order 13563 emphasizes the importance of quantifying both costs and benefits, of reducing costs, of harmonizing rules, and of promoting flexibility. It has been determined that this rule is not a significant regulatory action.

Congressional Review Act

This rule is not a “major rule” as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Public Law 96-354, “Regulatory Flexibility Act” (5 U.S.C. Chapter 6)

The Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Privacy, Civil Liberties, and Transparency certified that this Privacy Act rule does not have significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because they are concerned only with the administration of Privacy Act systems of records within the DoD.

Public Law 96-511, “Paperwork Reduction Act” (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35)

It has been determined that this rule does not impose additional information collection requirements on the public under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Section 202, Public Law 104-4, “Unfunded Mandates Reform Act”

It has been determined that this rule does not involve a Federal mandate that may result in the expenditure by State, local and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more and that it will not significantly or uniquely affect small governments.

Executive Order 13132, “Federalism”

It has been determined that this rule does not have federalism implications. This rule does not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the National Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

Executive Order 13175, “Consultation and Coordination With Indian Tribal Governments”

Executive Order 13175 establishes certain requirements that an agency must meet when it promulgates a proposed rule (and subsequent final rule) that imposes substantial direct compliance costs on one or more Indian tribes, preempts tribal law, or effects the distribution of power and responsibilities between the federal government and Indian tribes. This rule will not have a substantial effect on Indian tribal governments.

Privacy.

Accordingly, 32 CFR part 310 is amended as follows:

PART 310—[AMENDED]

■ 1. The authority citation for 32 CFR part 310 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 552a.

■ 2. Section 310.13 is amended by adding reserved paragraphs (e)(7) and (8) and adding paragraph (e)(9) to read as follows:

§ 310.13 Exemptions for DoD-wide systems.

* * * * *

(e) * * *

(7)–(8) [Reserved]

(9) System identifier and name. DoD-0003, “Mobilization Deployment Management Information System (MDMIS).”

(i) Exemptions. This system of records is exempt from subsections 5 U.S.C. 552a(c)(3), (d)(1), (d)(2), (d)(3), and (d)(4) of the Privacy Act.

(ii) Authority. 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

(iii) Exemption from the particular subsections. Exemption from the particular subsections is justified for the following reasons:

(A) Subsection (c)(3) (accounting of disclosures). Because records in this system may contain information properly classified pursuant to executive order, the disclosure accountings of such records may also contain information properly classified pursuant to executive order, the disclosure of which may cause damage to national security.

(B) Subsections (d)(1), (2), (3), and (4) (record subject’s right to access and amend records). Access to and amendment of records by the record subject could disclose information properly classified pursuant to executive order. Disclosure of classified records to an individual may cause damage to national security.

(iv) Exempt records from other systems. In addition, in the course of carrying out the overall purpose for this system, exempt records from other system of records may in turn become part of the records maintained in this system. To the extent that copies of exempt records from those other systems of records are maintained in this system, the DoD claims the same exemptions for the records from those other systems that are entered into this system, as claimed for the prior system(s) of which they are a part, provided the reason for the exemption remains valid and necessary.

Officer, Department of Defense.

Coast Guard

33 CFR Part 117

[Docket No. USCG-2022-0237]

Drawbridge Operation Regulation; Keweenaw Waterway, Between Houghton and Hancock, MI

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DHS.

ACTION: Notice of temporary deviation from regulations; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard has issued a temporary deviation from the operating schedule that governs the US41 Bridge, mile 16.0, over the Keweenaw Waterway between the towns of Houghton and Hancock, Michigan. The Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT), who owns and operates the bridge, has requested a deviation that will test a change to the drawbridge operation schedule to determine whether a permanent change to the schedule is needed. The Coast Guard is seeking comments from the public regarding these proposed changes.

DATES: This deviation is effective from 7 a.m. on May 26, 2022 through 7 p.m. on September 6, 2022. Comments and related material must reach the Coast Guard on or before November 1, 2022.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments identified by docket number USCG-2022-0237 using Federal Decision Making Portal at <https://www.regulations.gov>.

See the "Public Participation and Request for Comments" portion of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section below for instructions on submitting comments.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background, Purpose and Legal Basis

The US41 Bridge, mile 16.0, over the Keweenaw Waterway (the bridge) between the towns of Houghton and Hancock, Michigan, is owned and operated by MDOT and is the only crossing over the waterway. The bridge is a combination highway and railroad double deck lift bridge that provides a horizontal clearance of 7-feet in the down position, 103-feet in the open position, and 35-feet in the intermediate position above low water datum (LWD) based on International Great Lakes Datum of 1985 (IGLD85).

The Keweenaw Waterway divides the Keweenaw Peninsula and is located in the middle of the south shore of Lake Superior, a Great Lake known for hazardous weather conditions. The federal government improved the Keweenaw Waterway in 1861 to accommodate interstate commerce; the Keweenaw Waterway acts as a harbor of safe refuge for vessels caught in bad weather and is the halfway between Duluth, Minnesota and Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. Commercial vessels, including some over 700-feet in length, and powered and non-powered recreational vessels utilize the waterway. The passenger vessel RANGER III operates from the east side of the US41 Bridge to Isle Royal and is operated by the National Park Service with a capacity of 128-passengers. A U.S. Coast Guard Station is located at the far west end of the waterway.

MDOT has requested a new operating schedule to relieve commuter and commercial vehicle traffic congestion at the bridge on weekdays; the new schedule will not apply to federal holidays that fall on weekdays. Traffic data impacted by COVID-19 restrictions would not provide the public with an accurate assessment of the traffic conditions at the bridge and have intentionally have not been considered. The following data from the 2017 through 2019 drawtender logs and traffic data from July 9 through July 15, 2019 was provided by MDOT. We have received a request to consider restricting the bridge openings at this location at least twice a year since 2016. The comments and data received during this test deviation will prove or disprove the need for restricted openings.

MDOT provided vehicle-crossing data for a five-day workweek and we discovered from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. the traffic at the bridge steadily increases then decreases without definitive spikes at morning, noon, and evening, as shown in the below graph.
