Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in Air Travel; Corrections

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Department of Transportation.

ACTION: Correcting amendments.

SUMMARY: The Department of Transportation published its amended Air Carrier Access Act (ACAA) rule in the Federal Register on Tuesday, May 13, 2008 (73 FR 27614). That rule amended the ACAA rules to apply to foreign air carriers and added new provisions concerning passengers who use medical oxygen and passengers who are deaf or hard-of-hearing. A corrections notice was published on March 18, 2009. This document further corrects editorial errors or omissions and provides clarifications regarding the preamble and regulatory text of the final rule.

DATES: Effective Date: These amendments and corrections are effective July 30, 2010.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The Department of Transportation published its amended Air Carrier Access Act rule, Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in Air Travel, 14 CFR Part 382 (Part 382), in the Federal Register on May 13, 2008, (73 FR 27614), applying Part 382 to foreign carriers, adding new provisions concerning accommodations for passengers who use medical oxygen and who are deaf or hard-of-hearing, and reorganizing the entire rule. On March 18, 2009, the Department published a correction notice in the Federal Register (74 FR 11469), correcting several editorial errors, inconsistencies, and omissions that had been identified. Since the final rule became effective on May 13, 2009, we have identified several additional minor typographical and technical errors in the final rule text as well as the preamble, which this document corrects. We have set forth these corrections below. The corrections to the preamble can also be found on our Web site at <http://airconsumer.ost.dot.gov/>.

II. Summary of Errors to the Final ACAA Rule

A. Errors in the Preamble of the May 13, 2008, Final Rule (73 FR 27614)

On page 27619, in the third column, we intended to state that the carriers may choose to supplement the accessibility service provided by airports themselves or hire a contractor to do so. We erroneously used the word “itself” instead of “themselves.” This error is being corrected.

On page 27620, in the first column, we discuss the applicability of the Title II ADA rules to transportation services provided by public entities. A period omitted at the end of that sentence is being added.

On page 27651, in the first column, in the first paragraph, we state that the requirements for information and reservation services apply to foreign carriers only with respect to flights covered by § 382.5. The correct section reference should be § 382.7. A similar typographical error is also being corrected on page 27651, in the second column, in the second paragraph.

On page 27654, in the first column, where we discuss the issue of whether a carrier should allow a passenger with a disability to make brief stops to obtain food and a beverage when assisting in his/her transfer to the connecting gate, we are correcting two editorial errors by deleting the word “would” from one sentence and the word “should” from another sentence.

On page 27665, in the first column, we discuss the cost incurred by small foreign carriers related to obtaining boarding equipment. An incomplete sentence is being corrected. Thus, the language that appeared as “mall carrier use the same airport, however, a sharing arrangement may be more effective” will read: “For small carriers using the same airport, however, a sharing arrangement may be more effective.”

On the same page, following the paragraph discussed above, another typographical error is being corrected by deleting an unnecessary “a” from the next sentence.

B. Errors in the Regulatory Text of May 13, 2008, Final Rule

In § 382.7(f), we state that §§ 382.17 through 382.157 generally do not apply to an indirect carrier except insofar as § 382.11(b) applies to such a carrier. By doing so, we inadvertently omitted the first sentence in this subsection that would have explained that the general nondiscrimination provisions contained in §§ 382.1 through 382.15 do apply to indirect carriers. We are adding a sentence in § 382.7(f) to make this clear.

In addition, we are rephrasing the language in § 382.11(b) to clarify the circumstances where an indirect carrier must comply with §§ 382.17 through 382.157. That is that the indirect carrier must comply with these sections when it is providing facilities or services (such as checking in passengers and baggage, or providing boarding and deplaning assistance) that would have otherwise been provided by a direct carrier.

In § 382.23(d), we state the conditions under which a carrier may require a passenger with a medical certificate to undergo additional medical review by the carrier. Furthermore, we state that if the result of the review demonstrates that the passenger may not be able to complete the flight without extraordinary medical assistance or the passenger would impose a direct threat to the health or safety of other persons on the flight, the carrier “may take an action otherwise prohibited under § 382.23(a) of this part.” In this last sentence, we intended to state that the carrier may take an action otherwise prohibited under § 382.21(a). Therefore, this sentence is being corrected accordingly. In addition, we are capitalizing the first letter in the word “part” in the phrase “of this part” so that its form is consistent with the phrase as it is used elsewhere in the rule.

In § 382.27(a), we state that “except as provided in * * * and §§ 382.133(c)(3) and 382.133(d)(3), as a carrier you must not require a passenger with a disability to provide advance notice in order to obtain services or accommodations required by this Part.” We intended to provide that when a passenger with a disability plans to use a respiratory assistive device onboard, as detailed under § 382.133, the carrier is permitted to require that the passenger provide up to 48 hours’ advance notice. However, we inadvertently referenced the wrong subsections of § 382.133. Neither § 382.133(c)(3) nor § 382.133(d)(3) is relevant to the notice issue in question. Therefore, we are correcting § 382.27(a) to reference the appropriate provisions in § 382.133, which are §§ 382.133(c)(4) and (5) and 382.133(d)(5) and (6).

In § 382.51(b), we are capitalizing the first letter in the word “part” in the phrase “in this part” so that its form is consistent with the phrase as it is used elsewhere in the rule.

In § 382.111(e), we state that “[a]ssistance in stowing and retrieving carry-on items, including mobility aids and other assistive devices stowed in the cabin (see also § 382.91(c))” must be provided. Section 382.91(c) relates to the carriers’ responsibility to escort passengers with service animals to the service animal relief area and is not relevant to the substance of § 382.111(e). This typographical error is being corrected by changing “382.91(c)” to “382.91(d)”.

In § 382.111(f), we state that a carrier must provide “[e]ffective communication with passengers who have vision impairments and/or who are deaf or hard-of-hearing, so that these passengers have timely access to information the carrier provides to other passengers * * *.” Two mistakes are being corrected by this amendment. First, the use of the term “and/or” in § 382.111(f) can be read to require a carrier to provide deaf-blind passengers onboard the aircraft prompt access to information on such things as weather, on-board services, flight delays and connecting gates at the next airport. Contrary to this construction, we state in the preamble of the rule, on page 27642, that because communications with deaf-blind passengers regarding constantly-changing information requires highly specialized training for the carrier staff, we have determined that it is inappropriate at this time to require carriers to provide all the information covered in § 382.119 to deaf-blind passengers, including flight delays, weather conditions at the flight’s destination, and boarding information, similar to the types of information referred to under § 382.111(f). This inconsistency was due to an editorial error which we are correcting by changing the term “and/or” in § 382.111(f) to “or”. Thus, § 382.111(f) applies only to passengers with a visual or a hearing disability, but not to deaf-blind passengers.

We also state in the preamble of the rule, on pages 27640–41, after reviewing all the comments regarding the use of the term “prompt” versus “timely” with respect to wheelchair service, we decided to retain the “prompt” standard as we believe “prompt” is a clearer description of the actual standard than “timely”. Throughout the relevant provisions in the text of the rule, “prompt” is used instead of “timely.” For instance, in § 382.53(a)(1), we require that a carrier must ensure that passengers with a disability who identify themselves as persons needing visual or hearing assistance have prompt access to the same information provided to other passengers at each gate. In § 382.119(a), we impose on carriers a similar standard for ensuring that passengers with those disabilities receive prompt access to the same information provided to other passengers onboard the aircraft. We inadvertently used the term “timely” in § 382.111(f), which renders the provision in this subsection inconsistent with our stated intention and the other provisions in the rule. Therefore, the term “timely” in § 382.111(f) is being changed to “prompt.”

In the rule as published in the Federal Register on May 13, 2008, §§ 382.151, 382.153, and 382.155 refer to “a carrier providing scheduled service or a carrier providing nonscheduled service using aircraft with 19 or more passenger seats * * .” The words “scheduled” and “nonscheduled” do not add to the meaning of these sentences as the phrase “using aircraft with 19 or more passenger seats” applies to both scheduled and nonscheduled services. Consequently, we are striking the distinction between scheduled and nonscheduled service so that these provisions simply refer to “ * * a carrier providing service using aircraft with 19 or more passenger seats * * *.”

In § 382.151(c)(1), we state that when a passenger raises a disability-related complaint or concern, the carrier personnel must “immediately inform the passenger of the right to contact a CRO and then contact a CRO on the passenger’s behalf or provide the passenger a means (e.g., a phone, a phone card plus the location and/or phone number of the CRO available at the airport).” In order to make the sentence complete, the phrase “to do so” is added after the phrase “provide the passenger a means.”

III. Rulemaking Procedures

Pursuant to section 553(b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) (5 U.S.C. 553(b)), the Department can waive prior notice and opportunity for public comment on this action if it finds that notice and comment procedures are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest, and incorporates a statement of the finding and the reasons therefore in the notice. The revisions contained in this notice correct typographical and technical errors, omissions, and unclear language in the final rule. These corrections are necessary to ensure the clarity and accuracy of the final rule. Since all are minor and non-substantive, public comments on these revisions are unnecessary. Therefore, we find good cause to waive notice and comment procedures.

IV. Correction of Errors

In the preamble of the final rule published on Tuesday, May 13, 2008, 73 FR 27614, the following corrections are made:

A. Corrections to the Preamble

1. On page 27619, in the third column, in the 11th line, replace the word “itself” with the word “themselves”.

2. On page 27620, in the first column, in the 42nd line, add a period followed by two spaces between “airport”) and “DOT’s”.

3. On page 27651, in the first column, in the 11th line, replace “382.5” with “382.7.”

4. On the same page, in the second column, in the 27th line, replace “382.5” with “382.7.”

5. On page 27654, in the first column, in the 29th and the 30th lines, delete the first word “would” from the phrase “if doing so would not result” so it reads “if doing so would result”.

6. On the same page in the same column, in the 34th line, delete the word “should” from the phrase “service would should allow” so it reads “service would allow”.

7. On page 27665, in the first column, in the 35th and the 36th lines, revise the phrase “mall carrier use the same airport” so it reads “Small carriers using the same airport. * * *”

8. On the same page, in the same column, in the 50th line, delete the word “a” that was between the words “the” and “present” so the phrase reads “the present value”.
