

settlement procedures to resolve disputes over any matter affecting the operation of the Agreement. Chapter 20 calls for three stages of efforts to resolve a dispute: Consultations by the parties, a meeting of the NAFTA Free Trade Commission, and, finally, arbitration before a panel. An arbitral panel formed under the Chapter 20 procedures would be expected to render its final report within five to six months after the request to establish the panel is filed.

Major Issues Raised by the United States

The United States considers that Mexico's allocation of the duty-free tariff rate quota (TRQ) for certain dry beans (tariff item 0713.33.02) from the United States fails to comply with Mexico's obligations under Article 302 and Annex 302.2 of the NAFTA. The Schedule of Mexico set forth in Annex 302.2 requires Mexico to provide a duty-free TRQ for certain dry beans from the United States. The annual quantity of the duty-free TRQ is specified in footnote 29 of its Annex 302.2 Schedule. Article 302(4) of the NAFTA permits a Party "to allocate in-quota imports made pursuant to a tariff rate quota set out in Annex 302.2, provided that such measures do not have trade restrictive effects on imports additional to those caused by the imposition of the tariff rate quota." In both 1999 and 2000, Mexico did not allocate the dry bean TRQs for the United States in a timely manner, effectively denying U.S. exporters the full market access to which they are entitled under the TRQ. The United States believes these actions are inconsistent with Mexico's obligations under Article 302 and Annex 302.2 of the NAFTA.
