

local middle school; (iv) Two discussion (focus) groups with children: One group with younger children (grades K–1) and one group with older children (grades 2–4); (v) Two discussion (focus) groups with parents: one group with parents of younger children and one group with parents of older children; and (vi) Observational tours of the community.

During the site visits, respondents will be asked to provide general feedback about the Eagle Books and how the Eagle Books have affected knowledge, attitudes, and behaviors;

how materials currently support or could be used to support other local diabetes prevention efforts; and how the planned Youth Books could support the DETS curriculum. De-identified information will be collected and analyzed by staff from CDC's Native Diabetes Wellness Program (NDWP), with the assistance of a data collection contractor.

Findings will be used to identify "best practices" with regard to implementation and use of the Eagle Books and DETS curriculum; to inform the development of similar materials; and to enhance current and future community outreach and technical assistance efforts aimed at preventing or controlling diabetes in AI/AN youth.

Information will be collected in an average of four communities per year over three years. Participation is voluntary and there are no costs to respondents other than their time. The total estimated annualized burden hours are 132.
