Providing Accountability Through Transparency Act

Consistent with the Providing Accountability Through Transparency Act, Public Law 118–9, a summary of this document is available on <https://www.fcc.gov/proposed-rulemakings>.

Synopsis

In the document, the Commission's Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (Bureau) seeks to supplement the record on a proposal to re-allocate the 1675–1680 MHz band for shared use between incumbent federal operations and non-federal fixed or mobile operations on a co-primary basis. The Bureau seeks additional comment particularly in light of a recent filing in the proceeding by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) providing a follow-on report of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) regarding the potential for sharing of spectrum at the 1675–1680 MHz between incumbent federal and new non-federal operations.

In May 2019, the Commission released a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) (84 FR 23508, May 22, 2019) proposing to re-allocate the 1675–1680 MHz band for shared use between incumbent federal operations (extensively used by NOAA for satellite downlinks and weather balloons) and non-federal fixed or mobile operations on a co-primary basis. The NPRM proposed and sought comment on the use of competitive bidding to award licenses, as well as service and technical rules. The Commission received numerous comments on the NPRM.

Since the Commission last sought comment, there have been a number of developments in the proceeding, including a report prepared by NOAA and filed by NTIA in 2022 and a follow-on report prepared by NOAA and filed by NTIA in November 2024 that concluded that it is technically feasible to share the 1675–1680 MHz band used by NOAA for transmission of time-sensitive satellite data with commercial wireless services, subject to certain conditions.

In light of the recent filing of the NOAA follow-on report, the Bureau is providing an opportunity for additional comment in order to ensure an up-to-date record. Accordingly, the Bureau invites stakeholders to provide additional comment after reviewing the existing record in this proceeding.

Federal Communications Commission.
