

1, 1994), Machinery and Machine Guarding (September 30, 1994), Powered Platforms for Building Maintenance (September 30, 1994), Crane Operator Training (September 30, 1994), Spray Finishing (May 1, 1992), Reinforced Plastics Manufacturing (May 1, 1992), Explosives and Blasting Agents (September 30, 1994), Fire Protection and Fire Fighters (January 28, 2000), Lead (September 30, 1994), Ventilation (May 1, 1992), Noise Exposure (May 1, 1993), Handling Materials (November 1, 1993), General Environmental Controls, including Sanitation (February 1, 1993), Commercial Diving (June 1, 1993), Sawmills (July 22, 1996), Air Receivers (September 15, 1993), and Guarding of Portable Powered Tools (September 15, 1993). During that time OSHA has received no indication of significant objection to the State's different standards either as to their effectiveness in comparison to the Federal standard or as to their conformance with the product clause requirements of section 18(c)(2) of the Act. (A different State standard applicable to a product which is distributed or used in interstate commerce must be required by compelling local conditions and not unduly burden interstate commerce.) Oregon's Fire Protection and public sector Fire Fighters standards have been in effect since 1993, although the Fire Fighters standard was amended in March 1998 and January 2000. The private sector Fire Protection standard is identical to the Federal. Since the public sector Fire Fighters standard is at least as effective as the comparable Federal standards, is not specifically applicable to products used or distributed in interstate commerce, and is limited in scope to the public sector in Oregon, OSHA has determined that further opportunity for public comment is not appropriate. OSHA has also determined that the differences between the following State standards amendments and the Federal amendments are minor: Overhead and Gantry Cranes, Crawler Locomotive and Truck Cranes, and Definitions (1910.241).

OSHA therefore approves all the standards and amendments contained in this notice; however, the right to reconsider this approval is reserved should substantial objections be submitted to the Assistant Secretary.

3. Location of Supplement for Inspection and Copying. A copy of the standards, along with the approved plan, may be inspected and copied during normal business hours at the following locations: Office of the Regional Administrator, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, 1111

Third Avenue, Suite 715, Seattle, Washington 98101-3212; Oregon Occupational Safety and Health Division, Department of Consumer and Business Services, Salem, Oregon 97310; and the Office of State Programs, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room N-3700, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20210.

4. Public Participation. Under 29 CFR 1953.2(c), the Assistant Secretary may prescribe alternative procedures to expedite the review process or for other good cause which may be consistent with applicable laws. The Assistant Secretary finds that good cause exists for not publishing the supplement to the Oregon State Plan as a proposed change and making the Regional Administrator's approval effective upon publication for the following reasons:

1. The standard amendments are at least as effective as the federal standards which were promulgated in accordance with the federal law, including meeting requirements for public participation.

2. The standard amendments were adopted in accordance with the procedural requirements of State law and further public participation would be repetitious.

This decision is effective August 25, 2000.

(Sec. 18, Pub. L. 91-596, 84 STAT. 6108 [29 U.S.C. 667]).

Signed at Seattle, Washington, this 15th day of August, 2000.

Richard S. Terrill,

Regional Administrator.
