Abstract

In June 2014, the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council (FFIEC)¹ Task Force on Supervision (TFOS) established a working group to discuss supervisory processes and strategies for monitoring and addressing interest rate risk at insured depository institutions. One of the group’s key priorities is to complete a questionnaire of asset-liability management software vendors, both model developers and consultants. The questionnaire is designed to inform examiners of the mechanics and underlying assumptions of specific interest rate risk models with the goal of helping examiners gain a better understanding of financial institutions’ rate sensitivity modeling. The questionnaire captures information ranging from basic aspects of each vendor or consultant’s interest rate risk model, for instance, its client base to more complex components, including modeling capability. The complex modeling components will provide a baseline level of regulatory knowledge about each vendor or consultant’s ability to measure interest rate risk under a variety of approaches, capture data, and measure the risk, including optionality. Staff is recommending that the questionnaire cover approximately 73 vendors comprised of 33 model developers and 40 consultants. The questionnaire should take approximately 8 hours for each model developer to complete and 4 hours for each consultant as consultants are not required to answer questions related to a model with the same granularity as the model developers.

The OCC will serve as the sponsoring or central collection agency for this information collection. The information will be collected by the OCC and made available to the FFIEC’s TFOS in order to support its discussions concerning supervisory processes and strategies for monitoring and addressing interest rate risk at insured depository institutions.

¹ The FFIEC is a formal interagency body empowered to prescribe uniform principles, standards, and report forms for the examination of financial institutions by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the National Credit Union Administration, the OCC, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, and to make recommendations to promote uniformity in the supervision of financial institutions. In 2006, the State Liaison Committee (SLC) was added to the Council as a voting member. The SLC includes representatives from the Conference of State Bank Supervisors, the American Council of State Savings Supervisors, and the National Association of State Credit Union Supervisors.
