Proposed Project

The Muscular Dystrophy Surveillance, Tracking, and Research Network (MD STARnet) Living with Muscular Dystrophy Questionnaire—New—National Center on Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities (NCBDDD), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Background and Brief Description

Since its establishment in 2002, the MD STARnet has been a population-based surveillance system that aims to identify and collect clinical data on individuals with muscular dystrophy (MD) in select surveillance areas. MD STARnet identifies and collects data on individuals with MD at sources including healthcare facilities where patients with MD receive care and administrative datasets such as vital records and hospital discharge data. Although MDs are rare genetic diseases with an estimated prevalence of 16.1/100,000, they have a high impact on affected individuals, their families, and society. MDs can be classified into nine major groups: Duchenne MD (DMD), Becker MD (BMD), myotonic dystrophy (DM), facioscapulohumeral muscular dystrophy (FSHD), limb-girdle MD (LGMD), Congenital MD (CMD), Emery-Dreifuss MD (EDMD), Oculopharyngeal MD (OPMD), and distal MD. A recent MD STARnet study has estimated the combined prevalence for DMD and BMD to be 1.92–2.48/10,000 males age 5–9 years old. MD STARnet aims to improve understanding of MDs and ultimately the quality of life of individuals and their families living with MD.

Individuals with MD frequently report pain and fatigue, but studies have primarily been conducted in single clinics and limited to the three most common MDs (DMD, DM, and FSHD).
