

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

12 CFR Part 201

[Regulation A]

Extensions of Credit by Federal Reserve Banks

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.
ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board) has adopted final amendments to its Regulation A to reflect the Board's approval of a decrease in the primary credit rate at each Federal Reserve Bank. The secondary credit rate at each Reserve Bank automatically decreased by formula as a result of the Board's primary credit rate action.

In addition, the Board is inserting a footnote to § 201.51 clarifying that the rates described in that section apply to both advances and discounts made under the primary, secondary, and seasonal credit programs. The Board's amendments also correct a typographical error in § 201.51(c).

DATES: The amendments to part 201 (Regulation A) are effective July 10, 2003. The rate changes for primary and secondary credit were effective on the dates specified in 12 CFR 201.51, as amended.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Reserve Banks make primary and secondary credit available to depository institutions as a backup source of funding on a short-term basis (usually overnight). The primary and secondary credit rates are the interest rates that the twelve Federal Reserve Banks charge for extensions of credit under these programs. In accordance with the Federal Reserve Act, the primary and secondary credit rates are established by the boards of directors of the Federal Reserve Banks, subject to the review and determination of the Board.

The Board approved requests by the Reserve Banks to decrease by 25 basis points the primary credit rate in effect at each of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks, thereby lowering from 2.25 percent to 2 percent the rate that each Reserve Bank charges for extensions of primary credit. As a result of the Board's action on the primary credit rate, the rate that each Reserve Bank charges for extensions of secondary credit automatically decreased from 2.75 percent to 2.50 percent under the secondary credit rate formula. The final amendments to Regulation A reflect these rate changes.

The 25-basis-point decrease in the primary credit rate was associated with a similar decrease in the target for the federal funds rate (from 1.25 percent to 1 percent) approved by the Federal Open Market Committee (Committee) and announced at the same time. A press release announcing these actions indicated that:

The Committee continues to believe that an accommodative stance of monetary policy, coupled with still robust underlying growth in productivity, is providing important ongoing support to economic activity. Recent signs point to a firming in spending, markedly improved financial conditions, and labor and product markets that are stabilizing. The economy, nonetheless, has yet to exhibit sustainable growth. With inflationary expectations subdued, the Committee judged that a slightly more expansive monetary policy would add further support for an economy which it expects to improve over time.

In addition to amending the primary and secondary credit rates listed in § 201.51 of Regulation A, the Board has added a footnote to § 201.51 to clarify that the rates described in that section apply to both advances and discounts made under the primary, secondary, and seasonal credit programs. The Board uses the unqualified term "discount rate" to refer to the primary credit rate.

The Board's amendments to Regulation A also correct the cross-reference to the secondary credit program in § 201.51(c). The current regulation refers to § 201.4(b) when it should refer to § 201.4(c).

Regulatory Flexibility Act Certification

Pursuant to section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)), the Board certifies that the new primary and secondary credit rates will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because the final rule does not impose any additional requirements on entities affected by the regulation. The insertion of the footnote and correction of the cross-reference also should not adversely affect small entities because they merely clarify the application of § 201.51.

Administrative Procedure Act

The Board did not follow the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553(b) relating to notice and public participation in connection with the adoption of these amendments because the Board for good cause determined that delaying implementation of the new primary and secondary credit rates, the explanatory footnote, and the cross-reference correction in order to allow notice and public comment would be unnecessary and contrary to the public interest in fostering price stability and sustainable economic growth. For these same reasons, the Board also has not provided 30 days prior notice of the effective date of the rule under section 553(d).

Philadelphia	2.00	June 26, 2003.
Cleveland	2.00	June 26, 2003.
Richmond	2.00	June 26, 2003.
Atlanta	2.00	June 26, 2003.
Chicago	2.00	June 26, 2003.
St. Louis	2.00	June 26, 2003.
Minneapolis	2.00	June 26, 2003.
Kansas City	2.00	June 25, 2003.
Dallas	2.00	June 26, 2003.
San Francisco	2.00	June 25, 2003.

(b) Secondary credit. The interest rates for secondary credit provided to depository institutions under 201.4(b) are:

Federal Reserve Bank	Rate	Effective
Boston	2.50	June 25, 2003.

¹ The primary, secondary, and seasonal credit rates described in this section apply to both advances and discounts made under the primary, secondary, and seasonal credit programs, respectively.

Federal Reserve Bank	Rate	Effective
New York	2.50	June 25, 2003.
Philadelphia	2.50	June 26, 2003.
Cleveland	2.50	June 26, 2003.
Richmond	2.50	June 26, 2003.
Atlanta	2.50	June 26, 2003.
Chicago	2.50	June 26, 2003.
St. Louis	2.50	June 26, 2003.

Airworthiness Directives; Textron Lycoming Fuel Injected Reciprocating Engines

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration, DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment supersedes an existing airworthiness directive (AD), that is applicable to certain Textron Lycoming reciprocating engines with certain Crane/Lear Romec "AN" rotary fuel pumps installed. That AD currently requires initial and follow-up torque check inspections of pump relief valve attaching screws. This amendment requires the same initial and follow-up torque check inspections of relief valve attaching screws, and adds as a terminating action, replacement of the affected fuel pump at or before the overhaul interval, with a fuel pump having a new design valve housing. This amendment is prompted by the introduction of a new design pump relief valve housing and associated parts that provide enhanced resistance to fuel leakage, and the need for clarification of the requirements of the current AD. The actions specified by this AD are intended to prevent rotary fuel pump leaks, which could result in an engine failure, engine fire, and damage to or loss of aircraft.

DATES: Effective August 14, 2003. The incorporation by reference of certain publications listed in the regulations is approved by the Director of the Federal Register as of August 14, 2003.

ADDRESSES: The service information referenced in this AD may be obtained from Lycoming, 652 Oliver St., Williamsport, PA 17701; telephone (717) 327-7080; fax (717) 327-7100. This information may be examined, by appointment, at the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), New England Region, Office of the Regional Counsel, 12 New England Executive Park, Burlington, MA; or at the Office of the Federal Register, 800 North Capitol Street, NW., suite 700, Washington, DC.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 39) by superseding AD 98-18-12, Amendment 39-10728 (63 FR 48571, September 11, 1998, which is applicable to certain Textron Lycoming reciprocating engines with certain Crane/Lear Romec "AN" rotary fuel pumps installed was published in the Federal Register on December 13, 2002 (67 FR 76702). That action proposed to require the same initial and follow-up torque check inspections of relief valve attaching screws, and add as a terminating action, replacement of the affected fuel pump at or before the overhaul interval, with a fuel pump having a new design valve housing in accordance with Lycoming Service Bulletin (SB) No. 529B, dated June 10, 2002.

Comments

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment. Due consideration has been given to the comment received.

Request for Additional Alternative Methods of Compliance

One commenter requests that the installation of fuel pumps that were FAA-approved by a supplemental type certificate (STC) issued in October 2002 should be considered as an alternative method of compliance (AMOC) to this AD. The commenter believes these fuel pumps are a direct replacement for the Crane/Lear Romec fuel pumps affected by this AD.

The FAA does not agree. The fuel pumps that were approved by the STC have a different part number than the Crane/Lear Romec fuel pumps in this AD. Accordingly, the fuel pumps installed under the STC are not subject to the inspections required by this AD and may be installed without an AMOC. Therefore, no changes will be made to the AD.

After careful review of the available data, including the comment noted above, the FAA has determined that air safety and the public interest require the adoption of the rule as proposed.

Regulatory Analysis

This final rule does not have federalism implications, as defined in Executive Order 13132, because it would not have a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Accordingly, the FAA has not consulted with state authorities prior to publication of this final rule.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this action (1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under the DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034, February 26, 1979); and (3) will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A final evaluation has been prepared for this action and it is contained in the Rules Docket. A copy of it may be obtained by contacting the Rules Docket at the location provided under the caption ADDRESSES.
