SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The subject information collection requirements arise from Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) section 101(e), which establishes notice requirements that must be satisfied before an employer may transfer excess assets from a defined benefit pension plan to a retiree health benefit account, as permitted under the conditions set forth in Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code) section 420. The section 101(e) notice requirements are two-fold. First, subsection (e)(1) requires plan administrators to provide advance written notification of such transfers to participants and beneficiaries. Second, subsection (e)(2)(A) requires employers to provide advance written notification of such transfers to the Secretaries of Labor and the Treasury, the plan administrator, and each employee organization representing participants in the plan. Both notices must be given at least 60 days before the transfer date. The two subsections prescribe the information to be included in each type of notice and further give the Secretary of Labor the authority to prescribe how notice to participants and beneficiaries must be given and how any additional reporting requirements are deemed necessary.

The DOL published ERISA Technical Release 91-1 on May 8, 1991, to provide guidance on how to satisfy the notice requirements prescribed by this section of the Act. The Technical Release made two changes in the statutory requirements for the second type of notice. First, it required the notice to include a filing date and the intended asset transfer date. The Release also simplified the statutory filing requirements by providing that filing with the DOL would be deemed sufficient notice to both the DOL and the Department of the Treasury, as required under the statute.
