

definition of a debt instrument by section 1275(a)(1)(B)(ii).

Example 4. The facts are the same as in Example 1, except that Company X is a foreign insurance corporation controlled by a U.S. shareholder. Company X does not make an election under section 953(d) to be treated as a domestic corporation. The controlling U.S. shareholder is required under sections 953 and 954 to include income earned on the annuity contract in its taxable income under subpart F. However, Company X is not subject to tax under subchapter L with respect to income earned on the annuity contract. Thus, the annuity contract is not excepted from the definition of a debt instrument by section 1275(a)(1)(B)(ii).

Example 5. The facts are the same as in Example 4, except that Company X properly elects under section 953(d) to be treated as a domestic corporation. By reason of its election, Company X is subject to tax under subchapter L with respect to income earned on the annuity contract. Thus, the annuity contract is excepted from the definition of a debt instrument by section 1275(a)(1)(B)(ii).

(3) Effective date. This paragraph (k) is applicable for interest accruals on or after the date that is 30 days after final regulations are published in the Federal Register. This paragraph (k) does not apply to an annuity contract that was purchased before January 12, 2001. For purposes of this paragraph (k), if any additional investment in a contract purchased before January 12, 2001 is made on or after January 12, 2001, and the additional investment is not required to be made under a binding written contractual obligation that was entered into before that date, then the additional investment is treated as the purchase of a contract after January 12, 2001.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background and Purpose

On December 18, 1996, the IRS and the Treasury Department published the elective regime under section 7701 known as the check-the-box regulations. 61 FR 66584. Generally, the check-the-box regulations allow any business entity to elect to be treated for Federal tax purposes as a corporation, a partnership (if it has two or more members), or a disregarded entity (if it has a single owner). This document proposes to amend the current Procedure and Administration Regulations (26 CFR Part 301) to address the treatment of an entity wholly owned by a foreign government (as defined in § 1.892-2T) and a nonbank entity wholly owned by a foreign bank.

This document also proposes to provide that a partnership can be a controlled commercial entity under section 892.
