PP 9E7552. Interregional Research Project Number 4 (IR-4), Rutgers University, 500 College Rd. East, Suite 201W, Princeton, NJ 08540, on behalf of OmniLytics, 5450 W. Wiley Post Way, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, proposes to establish an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of the microbial pesticide, Bacteriophage of Clavibacter michiganensis subsp. michiganensis, in or on tomato. The petitioner believes no analytical method is needed because there is a long history of mammalian consumption of phages in food without causing any known deleterious human health effects or any evidence of toxicity. Phage-infected plants are part of the human diet and there have been no findings which indicate that phages are able to replicate in mammals or other vertebrates, thereby eliminating the possibility of human infection.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. General Information

A. Does this Action Apply to Me?

This action is directed to the public in general. This action may, however, be of interest to various environmental groups, farmers, ranchers, state regulatory partners, other interested federal agencies, members of the public interested in the sale, distribution, or use of pesticides, and other pesticide registrants and pesticide users. Since other entities may also be interested, the Agency has not attempted to describe all the specific entities that may be affected by this action. If you have any questions regarding the applicability of this action to a particular entity, consult the person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

B. What Should I Consider as I Prepare My Comments for EPA?

1. Submitting CBI. Do not submit this information to EPA through www.regulations.gov or e-mail. Clearly mark the part or all of the information that you claim to be CBI. For CBI information in a disk or CD-ROM that you mail to EPA, mark the outside of the disk or CD-ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD-ROM the specific information that is claimed as CBI. In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket. Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

2. Tips for preparing your comments. When submitting comments, remember to:

- i. Identify the document by docket ID number and other identifying information (subject heading, Federal Register date and page number).
- ii. Follow directions. The Agency may ask you to respond to specific questions or organize comments by referencing a Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part or section number.
- iii. Explain why you agree or disagree; suggest alternatives and substitute language for your requested changes.
- iv. Describe any assumptions and provide any technical information and/or data that you used.
- v. If you estimate potential costs or burdens, explain how you arrived at your estimate in sufficient detail to allow for it to be reproduced.
- vi. Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns and suggest alternatives.
- vii. Explain your views as clearly as possible, avoiding the use of profanity or personal threats.
- viii. Make sure to submit your comments by the comment period deadline identified.

3. Environmental justice. EPA seeks to achieve environmental justice, the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of any group, including minority and/or low income populations, in the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies. To help address potential environmental justice issues, the Agency seeks information on any groups or segments of the population who, as a result of their location, cultural practices, or other factors, may have atypical or disproportionately high and adverse human health impacts or environmental effects from exposure to the pesticides discussed in this document, compared to the general population.

II. What Action is the Agency Taking?

EPA is making available for comment a registration application for a product containing the chemical combination of the anticoagulant rodenticide, diphacinone and the insecticide, imidacloprid, to control black-tailed prairie dogs and their host fleas. EPA is providing this comment opportunity because it believes that pesticide products intended to control black-tailed prairie dogs have been the subject of particular public interest in recent years. Diphacinone is currently registered for use against rodents, including Norway rats, roof rats, house mice, ground squirrels, and voles. Imidacloprid is currently registered as an insecticide to control host fleas on the California ground squirrel. EPA will evaluate all comments received during the public comment period. The application would, if accepted by EPA, allow the use of diphacinone and imidacloprid for the control of the black-tailed prairie dogs and their host fleas.

A copy of the application (with information claimed by the applicant as CBI redacted) is available for public review in the docket established for this new use application as described under ADDRESSES.

Following the review of the application, and any comments and data received in response to this solicitation, EPA will decide whether to issue or deny the registration application, and if issued, the conditions under which it is to be granted.
