Abstract: The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is seeking approval for a generic information collection request (ICR) for the conduct of focus groups and one-on-one interviews related to economics projects primarily for survey development. Focus groups are groups of individuals brought together for moderated discussions on a specific topic or issue. These groups are typically formed to gain insight and understanding of attitudes and perceptions held by the public surrounding an issue. One-on-one interviews, as the term implies, are individual interviews in which a respondent is generally asked to review materials and provide feedback on their content and design as well as the thought processes that the materials invoke.

Focus groups and one-on-one interviews (hereafter referred to collectively as “focus groups”) used as a qualitative research tool have three major purposes: (1) To better understand respondents’ attitudes, perceptions and emotions in response to specific topics and concepts; (2) to obtain respondent information useful for better defining variables and measures in later quantitative studies; and (3) to further explore findings obtained from quantitative studies.

Through these focus groups, the Agency will be able to gain a more in-depth understanding of the public’s attitudes, beliefs, motivations and feelings regarding specific issues and will provide invaluable information regarding the quality of draft survey instruments. Focus group discussions are necessary and important steps in the design of a quality survey.

Form Numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities: Individuals/members of the public.

Respondent’s obligation to respond: voluntary.

Estimated number of respondents: 1,089 (total).

Frequency of response: one-time.

Total estimated burden: 726 hours (per year). Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.03(b).

Total estimated cost: $21,150 (per year), includes $0 annualized capital or operation & maintenance costs.

Changes in the Estimates: There is decrease of 414 hours in the total estimated respondent burden compared with the ICR currently approved by OMB. This decrease is based on projected use estimates for new and continuing projects provided by program offices at EPA. A decrease in burden conveys simply that EPA anticipates less need for the conduct of focus groups under this ICR than in the past.

Director, Regulatory Support Division.

Abstract: The New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) for Metal Furniture Coating were proposed on November 28, 1980; promulgated on October 29, 1982; and most-recently revised on October 17, 2000. These regulations apply to each metal furniture surface coating operation in which organic coatings are applied (greater than 3,842 liters of coating per year), commencing construction, modification, or reconstruction after November 28, 1980. In general, all NSPS standards require initial notifications, performance tests, and periodic reports by the owners/operators of the affected facilities. They are also required to maintain records of the occurrence and duration of any startup, shutdown, or malfunction in the operation of an affected facility, or any period during which the monitoring system is inoperative. This information is being collected to assure compliance with 40 CFR part 60, subpart EE.

Form Numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities: Metal furniture surface coating operations.

Respondent's obligation to respond: Mandatory (40 CFR part 60, subpart EE).

Estimated number of respondents: 42 (total).

Frequency of response: Initially, occasionally, quarterly and semiannually.

Total estimated burden: 5,940 hours (per year). Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.3(b).

Total estimated cost: $791,000 (per year), which includes $88,200 in annualized capital/startup and/or operation & maintenance costs.

Changes in the Estimates: There is an adjustment decrease in the total estimated burden from the most-recently approved ICR. This decrease is not due to any program changes. The adjustment decrease in burden from the most-recently approved ICR is due to a decrease in the number of sources. The number of respondents has been adjusted downwards from the most-recently approved ICR to reflect a more accurate estimate of subject sources, based on data collected through EPA's Enforcement and Compliance History Online (ECHO) database and a review of metal furniture facilities subject to other federal regulations. The decrease in the number of respondents also results in a decrease in the operation and maintenance costs. There are no new respondents anticipated in the next three years, therefore, there are no capital costs.
