

III. Applicant's Request

Leland Schmitt, Jr. requests a five-year exemption from 49 CFR 395.3(a)(1) (the 10 consecutive hour off duty time requirement), section 395.3(a)(2) (the 14 hour "driving window"), section 395.3(a)(3)(ii) (the 30-minute break requirement), and sections 395.3(b)(1) and (2) (respectively, the 60 hours-in-7-days and the 70 hours-in-8-days limits). The applicant is an owner-operator currently leased to D & E Transport in Clearwater, Minnesota, who has been operating commercial motor vehicles (CMVs) for 30 years, and the requested exemption is solely for the applicant. The applicant states that the mandatory 10 hour off-duty break goes against his natural sleep patterns, as his normal nighttime sleep while in the CMV is between 5 to 7 hours.

A copy of Mr. Schmitt's application for exemption is included in the docket for this notice.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Overview

CTA has determined that certain Altimax RT43 replacement passenger car tires do not fully comply with the requirements of paragraph S5.5.1(b) of FMVSS No. 139, New Pneumatic Radial Tires for Light Vehicles (49 CFR 571.139). CTA filed a noncompliance report dated April 20, 2021, pursuant to 49 CFR part 573, Defect and Noncompliance Responsibility and Reports. CTA subsequently petitioned NHTSA on May 13, 2021, for an exemption from the notification and remedy requirements of 49 U.S.C. Chapter 301 on the basis that this noncompliance is inconsequential as it relates to motor vehicle safety, pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 30118(d) and 30120(h) and 49 CFR part 556, Exemption for Inconsequential Defect or Noncompliance.

This notice of receipt of CTA's petition is published under 49 U.S.C. 30118 and 30120 and does not represent any Agency decision or other exercise of judgment concerning the merits of the petition.

II. Tires Involved

Approximately three (3) Altimax RT43 replacement passenger car tires, size 175/65R14 82T, manufactured between March 8, 2020, and March 14, 2020, are potentially involved.

III. Noncompliance

CTA explains that the noncompliance is due to a mold error in which the subject tires contain a tire identification number (TIN) that omits the 3-digit plant code and the 6-symbol manufacturer's identification mark as required by paragraph S5.5.1(b) of FMVSS No. 139 and paragraph 574.5(b). Specifically, the subject tires should have been labeled "DOT 036 0F934V 1020" on the outboard sidewall and "DOT 036 0F934V" on the inboard sidewall but were instead labeled "DOT 1020" on the outboard sidewall and "DOT" on the inboard sidewall.

IV. Rule Requirements

Paragraph S5.5.1(b) of FMVSS No. 139 includes the requirements relevant to this petition.

- For tires manufactured on or after September 1, 2009, each tire must be labeled with the tire identification number required by 49 CFR part 574 on the intended outboard sidewall of the tire.
- Except for retreaded tires, if a tire does not have an intended outboard sidewall, the tire must be labeled with the tire identification number required by 49 CFR part 574 on one sidewall and with either the tire identification number or a partial tire identification number, containing all characters in the tire identification number except for the date code and, at the discretion of the manufacturer, any optional code, on the other sidewall.

V. Summary of CTA's Petition

The following views and arguments presented in this section, "V. Summary of CTA's Petition," are the views and arguments provided by CTA. They have not been evaluated by the Agency and do not reflect the views of the Agency. CTA describes the subject noncompliance and contends that the noncompliance is inconsequential as it relates to motor vehicle safety.

In support of its petition, CTA submitted the following reasoning:

CTA says that in most instances, it "tests its tires to standards which exceed the FMVSS minimums." CTA asserts that "the subject tires contain all the necessary sidewall markings to show compliance with FMVSS testing" and that other than the incorrect TIN marking, the tires "meet or exceed" FMVSS No. 139 performance and labeling requirements.

According to CTA, the serial sidewall of the subject tires displays the correct DOT production week and year and when combined with other markings available on the tire, they can be uniquely identified.

CTA cites the following previous inconsequentiality petitions to support its argument:

- a. Michelin North America, Inc., 85 FR 37495 (June 22, 2020).
- b. Cooper Tire & Rubber Company, 82 FR 52966 (November 15, 2017).
- c. Cooper Tire & Rubber Company, 82 FR 17510 (April 11, 2017).

CTA states that it is not aware of any tire failures related to performance that resulted in an accident, injury, property damage, customer complaint, or any field reports associated with the mislabeling.

CTA says that they have quarantined its current inventory of the noncompliant tires leaving three tires remaining in the market.

CTA concludes that the subject noncompliance is inconsequential as it relates to motor vehicle safety and that its petition to be exempted from providing notification of the noncompliance, as required by 49 U.S.C. 30118, and a remedy for the noncompliance, as required by 49 U.S.C. 30120, should be granted.

NHTSA notes that the statutory provisions (49 U.S.C. 30118(d) and 30120(h)) that permit manufacturers to file petitions for a determination of inconsequentiality allow NHTSA to exempt manufacturers only from the duties found in sections 30118 and 30120, respectively, to notify owners, purchasers, and dealers of a defect or noncompliance and to remedy the defect or noncompliance. Therefore, any decision on this petition only applies to the subject tires that CTA no longer controlled at the time it determined that the noncompliance existed. However, any decision on this petition does not relieve equipment distributors and dealers of the prohibitions on the sale, offer for sale, or introduction or delivery for introduction into interstate commerce of the noncompliant tires under their control after CTA notified them that the subject noncompliance existed.
