

Consistent with the statutory purposes and policy goals of the program, a firm may be considered a successor-in-interest and receive a subsequent SBIR/STTR award. An entity may be considered a successor-in-interest, if it has secured the transfer of: (1) All the small business concern's assets; or (2) the entire portion of the assets involved in performing the award. Examples of such transactions include, but are not limited to: (1) Sale of these assets with a provision for assuming liabilities; (2) transfer of these assets incident to a merger or corporate consolidation; and (3) incorporation of a proprietorship or partnership, or formation of a partnership. Further, to be considered a successor-in-interest, the firm must meet any applicable eligibility requirements. If performance of the funding agreement is complete prior to the transfer of assets, an entity may be considered a successor-in-interest without a novation. If the transfer of assets occurs during performance of the funding agreement, the awardee should verify with the awarding agency whether a novation is necessary.

Section 6(a)(5) of the Policy Directive provides, only as an example, that a phase III award can be made when the previous SBIR/STTR awardee has received a phase I or phase II award, or been novated one of those awards. This was never intended to be an exclusive list of all scenarios where an SBIR/STTR award could be made to a firm other than the recipient of a prior phase I or phase II award.

SBA amends the second sentence of section 6(a) of the Policy Directive to clarify SBA's long-standing intent regarding the eligibility of successor-in-interest entities to receive phase III awards. Currently, the first two sentences of this paragraph read as follows: "An SBIR/STTR Awardee may include, and SBIR/STTR work may be performed by, those identified via a 'novated' or 'successor in interest' or similarly-revised Funding Agreement. For example, in order to receive a Phase III award, the Awardee must have either received a prior Phase I or Phase II award or been novated a Phase I or Phase II award (or received a revised Phase I or Phase II award if a grant or cooperative grant)." SBA changes "must" to "may" in the second sentence and adds "successor-in-interest" to the list of possible eligible entities at the end of the sentence. This would not be a change in policy, but rather, a clarification of existing policy.

This clarification is necessary to provide confidence to Participating Agencies and applicants that entities that acquire access to the relevant SBIR/STTR data developed pursuant to prior SBIR/STTR awards, may be eligible to receive a phase III award as a successor-in-interest without novation if the performance of the prior SBIR/STTR award is complete.

Notice of Clarification of Phase III Eligibility in the Policy Directive for the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer Research (STTR) Programs

To: The SBIR and STTR Program Managers

Subject: SBIR/STTR Policy Directive

1. Purpose. The Small Business Administration (SBA) is updating its Small Business Innovation Research and Small Business Technology Transfer Research (SBIR/STTR) Policy Directives to clarify SBA's current policy that successor-in-interest entities are eligible to receive phase III SBIR/STTR awards.

2. Authority. The Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 638(j) and (p)) requires the SBA Administrator to issue an SBIR and STTR program Policy Directive for the general conduct of the programs.

3. Procurement Regulations. There are no procurement regulations created by this proposed clarification.

4. Personnel Concerned. This SBIR/STTR Policy Directive serves as guidance for all Federal Government personnel who are involved in the administration of the SBIR and STTR programs, issuance and management of funding agreements or contracts pursuant to the programs, and/or the establishment of goals for small business concerns in research or research and development acquisition or grants.

5. Originator. SBA's Office of Investment and Innovation.

This amendment to the SBIR/STTR Policy Directive will be effective on the date shown in the DATES section unless SBA receives any significant adverse comments on or before the deadline for comments set forth in the DATES section. Significant adverse comments are comments that provide strong justifications why the clarifying amendment to the PD should not be adopted as written or should be changed further. SBA does not expect to receive any significant adverse comments because the amendment does not change SBA's or Participating Agencies' interpretation of existing policy, and continues to confer the intended incentive for SBIR/STTR awardee successor-in-interest entities. Implementation of this change will benefit the public by ensuring that the plain language interpretation of the SBIR/STTR Policy Directive is consistent with SBA's policy intent. If SBA receives any significant adverse comments, SBA will publish a notice in the Federal Register withdrawing this notice before the effective date.

6. Date. Public comments on the proposed amendments to the Policy Directive must be submitted within 30 days following publication in the Federal Register.

Authorized By:
Jovita Carranza,
Administrator.
