

false statement was not material because it would not change the economic benefit analysis.

Second, the Petitioner argued that the Respondents falsely claimed to have acted in good faith by telling the Complainant that their policies included stringent pollution control requirements at the time of the violations when, according to the Petitioner, the Respondents adopted the measures only after the violations were discovered. The undersigned concluded that the Respondents' alleged statement was not materially false because the evidence provided by the Petitioner directly supported the Respondents' claim.

Third, the Petitioner argued that, based on the two allegedly false statements that he identified, the Respondents falsely certified to the Complainant that all of their statements were complete and accurate. The undersigned concluded that this argument was merely a repackaging of the Petitioner's first two arguments and that any allegedly false certification will not itself be material and relevant if the allegedly false statements underlying the certification were not themselves material and relevant.

Because the Petitioner did not identify any material and relevant issues not considered by the Complainant when setting the civil penalty, the undersigned therefore issued the Order denying the Petition. The Order may be viewed online at http://yosemite.epa.gov/oarm/alj/alj_web_docket.nsf/Dockets/CWA-03-2024-0036.

Authority: 33 U.S.C. 1319(g); 40 CFR part 22.

Dated: February 28, 2025.

Chief Administrative Law Judge, Office of Administrative Law Judges.
