II. Background

What Action is the Agency Taking?

PCNB is a fungicide widely used on agricultural crops such as cotton, vegetables, and on turf. EPA is making available the risk assessments that have been developed as part of the Agency's public participation process for making the reregistration eligibility and tolerance reassessment decisions for PCNB, as it has done for other pesticides, and consistent with FFDCA, as amended by FQPA. The Agency's human health, and environmental fate and effects risk assessments and other related documents for PCNB are available in the official public docket for this action under docket ID number OPP-2004-0202. As additional comments, reviews, and risk assessment modifications for PCNB become available, these also will be docketed for PCNB.

The Agency cautions that the PCNB risk assessments are preliminary and that further refinements may be appropriate. Risk assessment documents reflect only the work and analysis conducted as of the time they were produced and it is appropriate that, as new information becomes available and/or additional analyses are performed, the conclusions they contain may change.

EPA is providing an opportunity, through this notice, for interested parties to provide written comments and input to the Agency on the risk assessment for the pesticide specified in this notice. Such comments and input could address, for example, the availability of additional data to further refine the risk assessments, such as percent crop treated information or submission of residue data from food processing studies, or could address the Agency's risk assessment methodologies and assumptions as applied to this specific chemical. Comments should be limited to issues raised within the risk assessment and associated documents. Failure to comment on any such issues as part of this opportunity will in no way prejudice or limit a commenter's opportunity to participate fully in later notice and comment processes. All comments should be submitted by October 4, 2004 using the methods in Unit I. of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION. Comments will become part of the Agency record for PCNB.

II. Did EPA Conditionally Approve the Application?

A conditional registration may be granted under section 3(c)(7)(C) of FIFRA for a new active ingredient where certain data are lacking, on condition that such data are received by the end of the conditional registration period and do not meet or exceed the risk criteria set forth in 40 CFR 154.7; that use of the pesticide during the conditional registration period will not cause unreasonable adverse effects; and that use of the pesticide is in the public interest. The Agency has considered the available data on the risks associated with the proposed use of Trypsin Modulating Oostatic Factor, and information on social, economic, and environmental benefits to be derived from such use. Specifically, the Agency has considered the nature and its pattern of use, application methods and rates, and level and extent of potential exposure. Based on these reviews, the Agency was able to make basic health and safety determinations which show that use of Trypsin Modulating Oostatic Factor during the period of conditional registration will not cause any unreasonable adverse effect on the environment, and that use of the pesticide is, in the public interest.

Consistent with section 3(c)(7)(C) of FIFRA, the Agency has determined that these conditional registrations are in the public interest. Use of the pesticides are of significance to the user community, and appropriate labeling, use directions, and other measures have been taken to ensure that use of the pesticides will not result in unreasonable adverse effects to man and the environment.
