CPSC Workshop on Potential Ways To Reduce Third Party Testing Costs Through Determinations Consistent With Assuring Compliance; Reopening of the Comment Period

AGENCY: U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

ACTION: Notice; comment request.

SUMMARY: The Consumer Product Safety Commission (Commission or CPSC) published a notice in the Federal Register on February 27, 2014 (79 FR 11088), announcing an April 3, 2014 public workshop regarding potential ways to reduce third party testing costs through determinations consistent with assuring compliance. In the Federal Register notice the Commission invited the public to submit any written comments by April 17, 2014. In response to the notice in the Federal Register the Juvenile Products Manufacturer's Association (JPMA) submitted a comment requesting a 90-day extension of the comment period to allow JPMA time to collect additional data from material manufacturers and test laboratories. The Toy Industry Association (TIA) also submitted a comment requesting the Commission keep the docket open to continue to collect data. To allow interested parties to submit additional comments or information, the Commission is reopening the comment period until July 16, 2014.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 14(a)(2) of the Consumer Product Safety Act generally requires that children's products that are subject to a CPSC children's product safety rule must be tested by a third party CPSC-accepted laboratory for compliance with applicable CPSC rules. 15 U.S.C. 2063(a)(2).¹ Public Law 112-28 (August 12, 2011) (Pub. L. 112-28) directed the CPSC to seek and review comments on "opportunities to reduce the cost of third party testing requirements consistent with assuring compliance with any applicable consumer product safety rule, ban, standard, or regulation." The Commission fulfilled that sole related requirement in 2012.

On the Commission's own initiative in furtherance of continuing to seek meaningful ways to reduce the cost of third party testing while assuring compliance, the Commission published a notice in the Federal Register on February 27, 2014 (79 FR 11088), announcing an April 3, 2014 public workshop regarding potential ways to reduce third party testing costs through determinations consistent with assuring compliance. In the Federal Register notice, the Commission invited the public to submit any written comments by April 17, 2014. The Commission received 13 written comments in response to the notice. JPMA submitted a comment requesting a 90 day extension of the comment period to allow JPMA time to collect additional data from material manufacturers and test laboratories. TIA also submitted a comment requesting that the Commission keep the docket open to collect data.

Through this notice, the Commission is reopening the comment period until July 16, 2014, to allow all interested parties to submit additional comments and information. This extension ends 90 days after the close of the original comment period.

Dated: May 14, 2014.

Todd A. Stevenson,

Secretary, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.
