Background

On August 16, 2022, President Joseph R. Biden, Jr. signed the IRA, Public Law 117–159 (August 16, 2022), delivering on his promise to build an economy that works for working families.

The IRA provides over $1 billion over the next 10 years to several Federal agencies to facilitate efficient and effective reviews under the National Environmental Policy Act and other Federal processes. This could include identifying new strategies that would mitigate environmental impacts and thereby reduce timeframes for environmental reviews. More information on the IRA can be located at www.whitehouse.gov or at <https://www.congress.gov/bill/117th-congress/house-bill/5376/>.

To make the most of the IRA's historic investment and new opportunities, FHWA is seeking input on section 60505, Environmental Review Implementation Funds. This provision amends title 23, United States Code (U.S.C.) by adding 23 U.S.C. 178, and provides $100 million, available until September 30, 2026, to the Federal Highway Administrator. Funds under this program may be made available to eligible entities to support environmental reviews of surface transportation projects. Eligible entities for this purpose are: a State; a unit of local government; a political subdivision of a State; a Territory of the United States; an entity described in 23 U.S.C. 207(m)(1)(E); a recipient of funds under 23 U.S.C. 203; and a metropolitan planning organization (as defined in 23 U.S.C. 134(b)(2)). The funds may also be used by FHWA to develop guidance, technical assistance, templates, training, or other tools to facilitate an efficient and effective environmental review process for surface transportation projects.

The overwhelming majority of transportation projects can generally be processed with limited environmental documentation as categorical exclusions (CE). Project delay issues are more likely to occur on projects with the potential to cause significant environmental effects. However, even for that subset of projects, environmental review and permitting is often not the primary source of project delay. Previous efforts to assess challenges to project delivery have identified multiple factors that are greater contributors to project delays than issues with environmental review and permitting. These factors include inadequate project funding, increased capital costs, lack of consensus on multi-jurisdictional projects, low project prioritization, project complexity, local controversy, and changes in project scope.¹ While improvements to the environmental review and permitting process may not directly address these challenges, FHWA is seeking evidence-based solutions that can both increase the efficiency of environmental reviews and potentially mitigate the primary sources of delay.

Through this RFI, FHWA is soliciting information and suggestions from the public and stakeholders across the public and private sectors on how best to facilitate FHWA's implementation of this provision. While the public will have further opportunities to provide input as the implementation process unfolds, this notice provides an early way for stakeholders to submit information that can help inform FHWA's implementation of this provision.

Request for Information

This RFI is intended to solicit information on potential opportunities and challenges for implementing section 60505 of the IRA, including: (i) suggestions as to how FHWA might implement this section; (ii) necessity for additional guidance, tools, training, templates, or program changes; (iii) program areas requiring new and continued research. While Congress has specified that these funds will be administered by FHWA, the purpose of the funds is broadly to support environmental reviews of surface transportation projects, which may include rail projects funded by the Federal Railroad Administration and public transportation projects funded by the Federal Transit Administration. FHWA specifically requests comments on how these funds may be used to support this broader group of projects, including those that do not have FHWA involvement.

Content of Comments

The Department will review all comments submitted to the docket associated with this Notice, FHWA–2023–0004. FHWA encourages commenters to provide the following information:

1. Detailed information that you think FHWA should consider while implementing section 60505 of IRA. For example: Are there constraints in existing programs that could be addressed with additional funding?

2. Detailed description of the action(s) you think FHWA should take in response to the opportunity or challenge(s) identified within existing program areas. For example: financial assistance in the development of statewide databases to facilitate project reviews; development of an aid to assist FHWA in early coordination; or the development of programmatic consultations to accelerate review processes.

3. Detailed information on what types of assistance and on what topical areas would be most beneficial to recipients of direct funding and will facilitate an efficient and effective environmental review process for surface transportation projects. For example: types of technical assistance or training, liaisons to assist in resource studies, tools like geographic information systems to assist with project planning, scoping, or analysis.

4. Detailed information on what program areas would most benefit from new or continued research. For example: Are there additional research needs for specific subject or program areas (planning and environment linkages, public involvement, use of CEs, etc.)?

5. Detailed information on ways in which FHWA can make resources available to the eligible entities described in 23 U.S.C. 178(c)(2) while promoting equity and maximizing the opportunity to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the environmental review process. For example: Webinars and training to promote the Screening Tool for Equity Analysis of Projects and the FHWA Environmental Review Toolkit.

Scope of Comments

The FHWA is interested if there are additional opportunities to make improvements or accelerate the environmental review process for existing surface transportation programs, in addition to other State, local, and Tribal programs, for example through the use of Programmatic Approaches.

Although FHWA is seeking public input on the implementation on section 60505 of the IRA through this RFI, it may issue guidance and begin other activities related to implementation while this docket remains open.

Under this notice, FHWA is not soliciting petitions for rulemaking or Title: Aircraft Accident Liability Insurance, 14 CFR part 205.

Type of Request: Extension of a previously approved collection.

Abstract: 49 U.S.C. 41112 provides that an air carrier may not be issued or continue to hold air carrier authority unless it has filed with DOT evidence that it possesses insurance in accordance with DOT regulations. 14 CFR part 205 establishes procedures for filing evidence of liability insurance for air carriers, and contains the minimum requirements for air carrier accident liability insurance to protect the public from losses, and directs that certificates evidencing appropriate coverage must be filed with the Department. This insurance information is submitted to DOT using OST Form 6410 (U.S. air carriers) or OST Form 6411 (foreign air carriers). DOT expects to receive approximately 2,012 filed insurance certificates from U.S. air carriers and approximately 550 filed certificates from foreign air carriers. DOT expects to receive approximately 2,676 amended certificates each year from U.S. air carriers and approximately 732 amended filings from foreign air carriers. Total respondents expected is approximately 3,408. Further, DOT expects filers of certificates to take 30 minutes to complete the form and approximately 15 minutes (for approximately 5 percent of respondents) to prepare amendments to the form. Thus, the total annual burden is expected to be 894 hours.

Affected Public: U.S. and Foreign Air Carriers.

Number of Respondents: 2,562.

Frequency: On occasion.

Number of Responses: 3,408.

Total Annual Burden: 894 hours.

Authority: The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995; 14 CFR part 215.
