

classification framework presumes that the risk presented by a particular device depends on its intended purpose and the effectiveness of the risk management techniques applied during the design, manufacture, and use of that device. The document also suggests that the regulatory controls applied should be proportional to the level of risk associated with a medical device and should increase with the associated degree of risk presented by the medical device. The GHTF document suggests four global classifications of devices.

This document also presents a decision tree logic that may help regulatory authorities develop different parameters that might be used to classify specific devices.

When FDA discusses draft documents with representatives of other countries, we seek public comment on the resulting documents. We believe that it is important to publish draft documents for comment at the same time as other countries so we may review the public comments and resume discussions in a timely manner. Because other countries do not follow our good guidance practices (GGPs), we do not require draft documents that result from international discussions to comply with the format requirements of our GGP regulation. The GGP regulation does require that any final FDA guidance that results from international discussions will comply with the GGP regulation.

II. Electronic Access

In order to receive "Medical Devices Classification" via your fax machine, call the CDRH Facts-On-Demand system at 800-899-0381 or 301-827-0111 from a touch-tone telephone. Press 1 to enter the system. At the second voice prompt press 1 to order a document. Enter the document number (1327) followed by the pound sign (#). Follow the remaining voice prompts to complete your request.

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the draft document may also do so using the Internet. CDRH maintains an entry on the Internet for easy access to information including text, graphics, and files that may be downloaded to a personal computer with Internet access. Updated on a regular basis, the CDRH home page includes the civil money penalty guidance documents package, device safety alerts, Federal Register reprints, information on premarket submissions (including lists of approved applications and manufacturers' addresses), small manufacturers' assistance, information on video conferencing and electronic submissions, Mammography Matters, and other device-oriented information.

The CDRH home page may be accessed at <http://www.fda.gov/cdrh>.

III. Comments

Interested persons may, at any time, submit to the Dockets Management Branch (address above) written comments regarding this draft guidance. FDA must submit its written comments to the GHTF by July 1, 2001. FDA will consider any comments that it receives in a timely manner, while preparing those comments. FDA will consider any public comments that it receives after preparation of its comments to GHTF in future discussions on this issue. Submit two copies of any comments, except that individuals may submit one copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. The guidance document and received comments may be seen in the Dockets Management Branch between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.
