

(4) Course Design (20 points)

(a) A training needs assessment will be conducted to identify worker needs and knowledge and to identify the hazards to be included in the course as "Optional" topics.

(b) The course has a worker focus and concentrates on occupational safety and health issues that are most important and appropriate to a worker.

(c) The course is structurally sound; it creates interactive learning experiences; it engages the trainee with frequent and diverse interactions and feedback; it allows training materials to be easily located and printed; it assesses the effectiveness of the training through tests and quizzes.

(5) Technical Capabilities (10 points)

(a) Explain the data security and privacy system that is in place to maintain and protect the confidentiality of the gathered information.

(b) Appropriate system requirements, capabilities, and controls are discussed. These include but are not limited to monitoring and recording the time a trainee spends in the course, the screen delay mechanism, and the timed-out mechanism.

(c) Explain the random trainee verification procedures used during all phases of the course.

(6) Administrative Capabilities (15 points)

(a) Demonstrate that registration procedures are reasonable including the ease of registration and provisions for cancellations.

(b) Show that the proposed tuition or fees are in conformance with the established policies of the applicant and the charges are reasonable.

(c) Clearly articulate the marketing and recruiting plans for the online training program selected.

(d) Clearly state when and how the trainee will receive the trainer's identity and contact information.

(e) Explain how the administrative controls that are in place will perform required tasks including track trainee course progress, document test scores, produce reports, and randomly verify trainee identity.

(f) Demonstrate the capability of reporting and recordkeeping systems.

(g) Demonstrate the adequacy of the system to administer the online program and assure its integrity.

(7) Trainee Evaluation (10 points)

(a) Provide details about the plan to evaluate trainee satisfaction with the online course including course content, instructor response to questions, and ease of use.

(b) Discuss the mechanism for ensuring that trainees are aware of the requirement to complete a trainee satisfaction survey in order to receive an OSHA trainee course completion card.

(c) Provide details about the plan to assess the effectiveness of the training after a 6-month period.

(d) Discuss the mechanism for collecting the follow-up impact survey.

(e) Include a sample trainee satisfaction survey and a sample follow-up impact survey.

(f) Include a description of how both trainee surveys will be summarized.

Application Evaluation and Selection Process

Online course applications will be reviewed by technical panels comprised of OSHA staff. The technical panels will review online course applications against the criteria listed in this notice to determine which applicants best meet the stated requirements. As part of the evaluation and selection process, OSHA may request additional information from applicants. This may include written requests for clarification, phone or in-person interviews, access to existing programs, and on-site visits of applicant facilities. The panels' recommendations to the Assistant Secretary are advisory in nature. The final decision will be made by the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health.

Notification of Selection

Applicants will be notified by a representative of the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health if their organization is selected as an OSHA Outreach Training Program online trainer. After being initially selected as an OSHA Outreach Training Program online provider, applicants must submit a complete course for OSHA review. OSHA will notify the applicant of any necessary revisions before authorization to conduct the online training is granted. Applicants selected to be OSHA Outreach Training Program online providers must attend a mandatory orientation meeting at the Directorate of Training and Education in Arlington Heights, Illinois at a time and date to be provided.

An organization may not conduct OSHA Outreach Training Program online courses until the program has been fully authorized and the organization has signed a non-financial cooperative agreement with OSHA. Please note that reselling of online OSHA Outreach Training Program courses is expressly prohibited unless an exception is obtained in advance and in writing from OSHA. The agency defines resellers as business partners or Web sites other than that of the primary developer that act as "pass-through" links to the primary developer's Web site, allowing a student to purchase and access an online course; or any other marketing intermediaries, contractual distribution systems designed to distribute or promote services through a second party, or secondary-tiered provider.

Notification of Non-Selection

Applicants will be notified in writing if their organization is not selected to be an OSHA-authorized online Outreach Training Program provider.

Non-Selection Appeal

All decisions by the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health are final. The Department of Labor does not provide an appeal procedure for applicants that are not selected.

Authority: Section 21 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 670).

Signed at Washington, DC, on March 23, 2011.

David Michaels,

Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health.
