SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: PHMSA received a special permit renewal request from FNG to renew the special permit and to continue the exemption from 49 CFR 193.2155(b): Structural requirements. Although the present special permit term ended on May 13, 2019, in accordance with 49 CFR 190.341(e), the special permit will not expire until final administrative action on the application for renewal has been taken. The original special permit was granted to FNG by PHMSA on May 13, 2014. FNG’s special permit renewal request, submitted on November 5, 2018, seeks to waive compliance from the requirements in 49 CFR 193.2155(b) that an LNG storage tank must not be located within one (1) mile from the ends, or ¼ mile from the nearest point of an airport runway, whichever is longer.

FNG installed one (1) 125,000-barrel (5,250,000 gallons) LNG storage tank at its existing storage and vaporization site (FNG LNG Plant) located in Fairbanks, Alaska and includes all ancillary facilities required to operate the LNG storage tank. The special permit renewal request includes a design change of the LNG storage tank at the FNG LNG Plant from a single containment LNG storage tank to a full-containment LNG storage tank. The secondary containment for the full-containment LNG storage tank consists of a concrete outer wall around the primary liquid container, whereas the design for the single containment LNG storage tank had an outer dike around the LNG storage tank as secondary containment. The 125,000-barrel full-containment storage tank was also relocated from the original location of the single containment tank to better fit the property for setbacks and other design parameters. However, the LNG storage tank location is 0.8 miles from the Metro Field airport in Fairbanks, Alaska.

The special permit renewal request, proposed special permit with modified conditions, and Final Environmental Assessment (FEA) for the FNG LNG storage tank are available for review and public comment in the Docket No. PHMSA–2013–0181. We invite interested persons to review and submit comments on the special permit renewal request, special permit with modified conditions, and FEA in the docket. Please include any comments on potential safety and environmental impacts that may result if the special permit is renewed. Comments may include relevant data.

Before issuing a decision on the special permit renewal request, PHMSA will evaluate all comments received on or before the comment closing date. Comments received after the closing date will be evaluated, if it is possible to do so without incurring additional expense or delay.

PHMSA will consider each relevant comment it receives in making a decision to grant or deny this special permit renewal request.

Alan K. Mayberry,

Associate Administrator for Pipeline Safety.
