

periods of high traffic demand or severe weather, this situation contributes to increased controller workload and air traffic delays.

As a result of discussions between the FAA and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the using agency for R-6604, it was determined that certain NASA missions do not require use of the entire restricted area as it is currently charted. The FAA and NASA have agreed to internally subdivide R-6604 into two areas which can be activated independently based on NASA's mission requirements. Subdividing the airspace in this manner will allow NASA to release, for FAA use, the part of the restricted area that conflicts with the above routes (subject to NASA mission requirements). This would permit aircraft to continue flight along J-121, J-124, or V-139, reducing both controller workload and air traffic congestion.

The Rule

This action amends Title 14 Code of Federal Regulations (14 CFR) part 73 (part 73) by subdividing R-6604 into two separate areas within the current outer boundaries of existing restricted airspace. The subdivided areas will be designated as R-6604A and R-6604B. This subdivision will not change the external boundaries, altitudes, time of designation, or activities conducted within the restricted area.

These changes will enhance the management of air traffic operations along heavily traveled East Coast air traffic routes. Therefore, notice and public procedure under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) are unnecessary.

Section 73.66 of part 73 was republished in FAA Order 7400.8L, dated October 7, 2003.

This regulation is limited to an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore, this regulation: (1) Is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. It has been determined that this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this rule, when promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Environmental Review

This action is a minor administrative change to internally subdivide an existing restricted area. There are no changes to air traffic procedures or routes as a result of this action. Therefore, this action is not subject to environmental assessments and procedures in accordance with FAA Order 1050.1D, "Policies and Procedures for Considering Environmental Impacts," and the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

BILLING CODE 4910-13-P

RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

20 CFR Part 321

RIN 3220-AB57

Electronic Filing of Applications and Claims for Benefits Under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act

AGENCY: Railroad Retirement Board.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Railroad Retirement Board (Board) amends its regulations to permit the filing of applications and claims for benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act via the Internet electronically. The Government Paperwork Elimination Act provides that Federal agencies are required to provide "for the option of the electronic maintenance, submission, or disclosure of information, when practicable as a substitute for paper". The new part will permit the filing of applications and claims for benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act via the Internet electronically.

DATES: Effective Date: This rule is effective June 9, 2004.

ADDRESSES: Comments, if any, may be addressed to Beatrice Ezerski, Secretary to the Board, Railroad Retirement Board, 844 North Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611-2092.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Marguerite P. Dadabo, Assistant General Counsel, (312) 751-4945, TTD (312) 751-4701.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This amendment adds a new part 321 to the Board's regulations (20 CFR part 321) to permit the filing of applications and claims for benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act via the Internet electronically. The Government Paperwork Elimination Act, Public Law 105-277, sections 1701-1710 (codified as a note after 44 U.S.C. 3504) provides that Federal agencies are required to provide "for the option of the electronic maintenance, submission, or disclosure of information, when practicable as a substitute for paper".

The new part 321 provides that both an application and claims for benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act may be filed electronically through the Board's Internet Web site utilizing a User ID and a PIN/Password system. The new part further provides that determinations regarding those applications and claims will be adjudicated in accord with established procedures.

In establishing the authenticity of the person who is filing an application or claim for benefits, the Board intends to use a User ID and a PIN/Password system for identification as a substitute for a signature.

The Board currently uses a User ID and a PIN/Password system to allow employers access to RRBLINK to make electronic tax deposits and submit Form DC-1, "Employer's Quarterly Report of Contributions Under the RUIA" (Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act) electronically. A PIN/Password system is used to access the Pay.gov Web site. The U.S. Department of the Treasury operates the Pay.gov Web site. Such a system is also consistent with the guidance provided by the Department of Justice regarding the use of electronic processes.

The Board published part 321 as a proposed rule on November 7, 2003 (68 FR 63041). Only one comment was received. The commenter found the reference to the "User ID/PIN/Password system" confusing. In this final rule publication we have clarified that the person will be identified by a User ID and a PIN that will serve as the password to make transactions through the system.

The Board, with the concurrence of the Office of Management and Budget, has determined that this final rule does not constitute a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866. Therefore, no regulatory analysis is required. The Office of Management and Budget has approved information collections associated with this rule under control numbers 3220-0022, 3220-0039, and 3220-0198.
