NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

10 CFR Parts 11, 25, and 95

[NRC–2020–0133]

RIN 3150–AK49

Access Authorization Fees

AGENCY: Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Direct final rule; withdrawal.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is withdrawing a direct final rule that would have updated the access authorization fees charged to NRC licensees for work performed under the Material Access Authorization Program and the Information Access Authority Program. The direct final rule also would have made two administrative changes to revise definitions to include new naming conventions for background investigation case types and to specify the electronic process for completing security forms. The NRC is taking this action because it has received a significant adverse comment in response to the companion proposed rule that was published with the direct final rule.

DATES: Effective March 8, 2022, the NRC withdraws the direct final rule published at 86 FR 73631 on December 28, 2021.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On December 28, 2021 (86 FR 73631), the NRC published in the Federal Register a direct final rule that would have amended parts 11, 25, and 95 of title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations to update the access authorization fees charged to NRC licensees for work performed under the Material Access Authorization Program and the Information Access Authority Program. The direct final rule also would have made two administrative changes to revise definitions to include new naming conventions for background investigation case types and to specify the electronic process for completing security forms. The direct final rule was to become effective on March 14, 2022.

The NRC also concurrently published a companion proposed rule on December 28, 2021 (86 FR 73685). In the proposed rule, the NRC stated that if any significant adverse comments were received, then the NRC would withdraw the direct final rule by publishing a notice in the Federal Register. In that event, the direct final rule would not take effect.

The NRC received a significant adverse comment on the proposed rule that accompanied the direct final rule; therefore the NRC is withdrawing the direct final rule. The comment was submitted by the Nuclear Energy Institute, a private organization. The comment (ADAMS Accession No. ML22025A233) is available at www.regulations.gov by searching on Docket ID NRC–2020–0133. The comment states that the direct final rule did not provide sufficient information to explain the proposed increase in authorization fees. Specifically, the comment questions why the NRC selected the revised number and how authorization applications are becoming more complex. Additionally, the comment requests that the NRC consider phasing in the proposed fee increase and takes issue with the direct final rule's conclusion that the NRC has not adjusted its fees since 2012. The NRC considers the comment to be a significant adverse comment as defined in Section II, Rulemaking Procedure, of the direct final rule because the comment raises an issue serious enough to warrant a substantive response to clarify or complete the record.

As stated in the December 28, 2021, proposed rule, the NRC will address the comment in a subsequent final rule. The NRC will not initiate a second public comment period on this action.

Dated: March 2, 2022.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Daniel H. Dorman,

Executive Director for Operations.
