

Type of Request: Existing collection in use without an OMB control number.

Abstract: The Faculty Exchange Program (FEP) was established in 1995 and currently focuses on improving veterinary education and research in selected African countries for early- to mid-career instructors at colleges of veterinary medicine. FEP training programs are designed and organized in conjunction with U.S. universities, USDA veterinarians and other federal government agencies. Since the program began, FEP has trained 54 early- to mid-career instructors at colleges of veterinary medicine in Nigeria, Ghana, Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, and Ethiopia.

To achieve its objectives, FEP relies on the solicitation for qualified program applicants through a written application. FAS Posts across the globe provide this application to potential Fellows to assist in determining the adequacy of their candidacy alongside FAS Washington. The application is designed to capture the professional status of the applicant, the applicant's personal contact information, and the applicant's suitability for the program. Thus, the FEP application is an integral tool to Fellowship Programs Division and FAS' strategic goals at large.

In addition to information related to program objectives, the FEP application collects information that may be considered Personal Identifiable Information (PII), including the following: first name, middle name, last name, gender, salutation, birth date, birth city, citizenship country, country of residence, work phone, permanent home address, work address, personal email, work email, and emergency contact information (family contact: name, relationship, home phone, cell phone, and email).

Estimate of Burden: The public reporting burden for each respondent resulting from information collection under FEP varies in direct relation to the number of fellowships that each respondent participates in.

Type of Respondents: Individuals.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 40 per annum.

Estimated Number of Responses per Respondent: 1 per annum.

Estimated Total Annual Burden of Respondents: 20 hours per annum.

Copies of this information collection can be obtained from Dacia Rogers, the Agency Information Collection Coordinator, at Dacia.Rogers@usda.gov.

Request for Comments: Send comments regarding (a) whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the collection of information including validity of the methodology and assumption used; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

All comments received in response to this notice, including names and addresses when provided, will be a matter of public record. Comments will be available without change, including any personal information provided, for inspection online at <http://www.regulations.gov> and at the mail address listed above between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays.

Comments will be summarized and included in the submission for OMB approval.

Persons with disabilities who require an alternative means for communication of information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact FAS-ReasonableAccommodation@usda.gov or Felice Robinson (Senior Reasonable Accommodations Specialist), Felice.Robinson@usda.gov.

Title: Cochran Fellowship Program. OMB Number: 0551-New.

Expiration Date of Approval: Three years from approval date.

Type of Request: Existing collection in use without an OMB control number.

Abstract: Since 1984, U.S. Congress has made funds available to USDA's Cochran Fellowship Program to provide short-term training to Fellows from middle-income and emerging market countries in order to expose agricultural officials and industry representatives to U.S. agriculture products and policies, helping facilitate lasting, global relationships. The Cochran Fellowship Program is implemented by USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service, Global Programs, Fellowship Programs, and has hosted U.S.-based trainings for over 19,000 international participants from 127 countries worldwide.

To achieve its objectives, the Cochran Fellowship Program relies on the solicitation for qualified program applicants through a written application. FAS Posts across the globe provide this application to potential Fellows to assist in determining the adequacy of their candidacy alongside FAS Washington. The application is designed to capture the professional status of the applicant, the applicant's personal contact information, and the applicant's suitability for the program. Thus, the Cochran Fellowship Program application is an integral tool to Fellowship Programs Division and FAS' strategic goals at large.

In summary, excluding discrete questions related to program objectives, the Cochran Fellowship Program application collects the following personal information (that may be considered Personal Identifiable Information (PII)): first name, middle name, last name, gender, salutation, birth date, birth city, birth country, citizenship country, country of residence, home phone, work phone, mobile phone, permanent home address, work address, personal email, work email, passport information, U.S. contacts information (name, title, address, phone number, email), emergency contact information (US implementer), and emergency contact information (family contact: name, relationship, home phone, cell phone, and email).

Estimate of Burden: The public reporting burden for each respondent resulting from information collection under the Cochran Fellowship Program varies in direct relation to the number of fellowships that each respondent participates in.

Type of Respondents: Individuals.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 620 per annum.

Estimated Number of Responses per Respondent: 1 per annum.

Estimated Total Annual Burden of Respondents: 207 hours per annum.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Scientific Cooperation Exchange Program application.

OMB Number: 0551-New.

Expiration Date of Approval: Three years from approval date.

Type of Request: Existing collection in use without an OMB control number.

Abstract: The Scientific Cooperation Exchange Program (SCEP) was established in 1979 to support bilateral exchanges between teams of scientific and technical experts from the United States and the People's Republic of China. SCEP has facilitated exchanges for more than 3,000 participants on topics of trade importance to USDA, including food safety and security, animal and plant health, and agricultural biotechnology and emerging technologies. The program promotes U.S. agricultural priorities, encourages long-term cooperation in agricultural science and technology, creates a positive atmosphere for agricultural trade, and enhances overall relations between the United States and China.

To achieve its objectives, SCEP relies on the solicitation for qualified program applicants through a written application. FAS Posts within China provide this application to potential Fellows to assist in determining the adequacy of their candidacy alongside FAS Washington. The application is designed to capture the professional status of the applicant, the applicant's personal contact information, and the applicant's suitability for the program. Thus, the SCEP application is an integral tool to Fellowship Programs Division and FAS' strategic goals at large.

In summary addition to information related to program objectives, the SCEP application collects information that may be considered Personal Identifiable Information, including the following: first name, middle name, last name, gender, salutation, birth date, birth city, citizenship country, country of residence, work phone, permanent home address, work address, personal email, work email, and emergency contact information (family contact: name, relationship, home phone, cell phone, and email).

Estimate of Burden: The public reporting burden for each respondent resulting from information collection under SCEP varies in direct relation to the number of fellowships that each respondent participates in.

Type of Respondents: Individuals.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 30 per annum.
