

Act (“taking into account developments in practices, processes, and control technologies”), and that EPA take final action by March 29, 2024. The proposed Joint P&R I Consent Decree would resolve all claims in the CCSJ Matter and the same claims brought in the EIP Matter.

The second proposed decree, which would resolve all remaining claims in the EIP Matter, would establish deadlines for EPA to take actions on one NSPS and two NESHAP that cross reference flare control device requirements (“Flare Consent Decree”). The Flare Consent Decree would establish deadlines for EPA to take certain proposed and final actions. Specifically, the Flare Consent Decree would require that EPA sign the following: a proposed action under CAA section 111(b)(1)(B) on the NSPS for Volatile Organic Liquid Storage Vessels, 40 CFR part 60, subpart Kb, by September 29, 2023, and a final action by September 30, 2024; a proposed action under CAA section 112(d)(6) on the NESHAP for Epoxy Resins Production and Non-Nylon Polyamides Production (“P&R II”), 40 CFR part 63, subpart W, by March 31, 2023, and final action by March 29, 2024; and a proposed action under CAA section 112(d)(6) on the NESHAP for Marine Tank Vessel Loading Operations, 40 CFR part 63, subpart Y, by December 19, 2025, and final action by December 19, 2026.

In accordance with section 113(g) of the CAA, for a period of thirty (30) days following the date of publication of this document, the Agency will accept written comments relating to either or both of the two proposed consent decrees. EPA or the Department of Justice may withdraw or withhold consent to either or both of the two proposed consent decrees if the comments disclose facts or considerations that indicate that such consent is inappropriate, improper, inadequate, or inconsistent with the requirements of the Act.

III. Additional Information About Commenting on the Proposed Consent Decrees

Submit your comments, identified by Docket ID No. EPA-HQ-OGC-2022-0403, via <https://www.regulations.gov>. Once submitted, comments cannot be edited or removed from this docket. EPA may publish any comment received to its public docket. Do not submit to EPA’s docket at <https://www.regulations.gov> any information you consider to be Confidential Business Information (CBI) or other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute. Multimedia submissions (audio, video, etc.) must be accompanied by a written comment. The written comment is considered the official comment and should include discussion of all points you wish to make. EPA will generally not consider comments or comment contents located outside of the primary submission (i.e., on the web, cloud, or other file sharing system). For additional submission methods, the full EPA public comment policy, information about CBI or multimedia submissions, and general guidance on making effective comments, please visit <https://www.epa.gov/dockets/commenting-epa-dockets>. For additional information about submitting information identified as CBI, please contact the person listed in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section of this document.

If you submit an electronic comment, EPA recommends that you include your name, mailing address, and an email address or other contact information in the body of your comment. This ensures that you can be identified as the submitter of the comment and allows EPA to contact you in case EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties or needs further information on the substance of your comment. Any identifying or contact information provided in the body of a comment will be included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket and made available in EPA’s electronic public docket. If EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties and cannot contact you for clarification, EPA may not be able to consider your comment.

Use of the <https://www.regulations.gov> website to submit comments to EPA electronically is EPA’s preferred method for receiving comments. The electronic public docket system is an “anonymous access” system, which means EPA will not know your identity, email address, or other contact information unless you provide it in the body of your comment.

Please ensure that your comments are submitted within the specified comment period. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked “late.” EPA is not required to consider these late comments.
