Proposed Project: The National Executive Training Institutes To Reduce the Use of Seclusion and Restraint—NEW

The Center for Mental Health Services within the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration proposes to survey the recipients of the training and technical assistance provided through the National Technical Assistance Center's (NTAC) National Executive Training Institutes (NETI). The NETI was established to assist states in the reduction and elimination of seclusion and restraint (S&R). Six Regional NETI training events took place in 2003 and 2005. A total of 47 states and staff of 80 facilities were involved in the trainings. A NETI Survey was developed to identify the impact of the training on the implementation of strategies for the reduction of seclusion and restraint and adoption of alternative practices.

The NETI Survey is broken into 9 sections: Section I collects general information about the facility (name and state) and the person completing the questionnaire (name, title, phone number, if participated in NETI training and what NETI training participated in); Section II collects information about the type of facility or program that received the NETI training; Section III collects information about the types of persons served by the facility or program; and Sections IV through IX collect information about the strategies taught in the NETI training (Leadership, S/R Prevention and Reduction Tools, Use of S/R Data and Statistics, Staffing/Workforce Development, Consumer/Stakeholder Involvement, Barriers and Facilitators and other comments), specifically what strategies or changes were implemented before the NETI training, which were implemented after the NETI training, and which have not been implemented.

Among the data to be collected through the NETI Survey is information about the strategies taught in the NETI training for reducing the use of seclusion and restraint and adopting alternative practices. The NETI training has been accepted as a promising and best practice for reducing the use of seclusion and restraint, and as being on the evidence-based practices ladder. Current efforts are underway to move the NETI training up the evidence-based ladder to an effective practice. The use of evidence-based practices is one of the domains in the SAMHSA National Outcome Measures (NOMs).

Respondents will have the option of completing a paper or on-line version of the survey. The estimated annual response burden to collect this information is as follows:

Number of facilities	Responses per facility	Burden/response (hours)	Annual burden (hours)
80	1	1.50	120
