1. The Philadelphia Project consists of the following existing facilities: (1) A 65-acre reservoir at a normal maximum water surface elevation of 475.4 feet;¹ (2) two concrete dams joined by an island and designated as the east diversion dam, which is 60 feet long and 2 to 3 feet high with a crest elevation of 474.4 feet, and topped with 1.2-foot-high flashboards;² and the west diversion dam, which has two sections totaling approximately 30 feet long and 10.4 feet high with a crest elevation of 475.4 feet; (3) a non-overflow section that includes a reinforced concrete intake structure; (4) a 377-foot-long, 9.5-foot-diameter concrete penstock; (5) a 54.5-foot-long by 30-foot-wide reinforced concrete powerhouse; (6) one 3.645-megawatt horizontal Kaplan-type turbine-generator unit; (7) trash racks with 2.5-inch clear spacing; (8) a 4,160-volt, approximately 50-foot-long buried transmission line; (9) a switchyard; and (10) appurtenant facilities.

EONY operates the project in run-of-river mode. The generating unit can be operated in either manual or automatic control mode. The project is normally operated remotely (unmanned) in automatic mode. In automatic control mode, the unit is started, synchronized, loaded, unloaded and stopped automatically to maintain the headwater level. The headwater and tailwater levels are recorded using water level pressure transducers.

The maximum hydraulic capacity of the project is 845 cubic feet per second (cfs). Based on the U.S. Geological Survey StreamStats program's annual flow duration data, this flow is equaled or exceeded approximately 9% of the time on an annual basis. The minimum hydraulic capacity is approximately 120 cfs. A continuous minimum flow of 20 cfs or inflow to the project, whichever is less, is passed into the project's bypassed reach. This flow consists of water provided through the flashboard openings on the east dam. The Philadelphia Project generated about 10,092,492 kilowatt-hours for the period from 2016 to 2020.

o. Scoping Process.

Commission staff will prepare either an environmental assessment (EA) or an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) that describes and evaluates the probable effects, if any, of the licensee's proposed action and alternatives. The EA or EIS will consider environmental impacts and reasonable alternatives to the proposed action. The Commission's scoping process will help determine the required level of analysis and satisfy the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) scoping requirements, irrespective of whether the Commission prepares an EA or an EIS. At this time, we do not anticipate holding on-site scoping meetings. Instead, we are soliciting written comments and suggestions on the preliminary list of issues and alternatives to be addressed in the NEPA document, as described in scoping document 1 (SD1), issued April 18, 2022.

Copies of SD1 outlining the subject areas to be addressed in the NEPA document were distributed to the parties on the Commission's mailing list and the applicant's distribution list. Copies of SD1 may be viewed on the web at <http://www.ferc.gov> using the "eLibrary" link. Enter the docket number excluding the last three digits in the docket number field to access the document.
