SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: FDA has renumbered CP 7382.830 as CP 7382.845 and revised it to reflect a change in the guidance on how a QS/GMP inspection of a medical device manufacturer should be conducted. The new inspectional method is known as the quality systems inspection technique. The revision to the CP also reflects changes in when FDA may consider a firm out of compliance with the medical device quality system regulation (21 CFR part 820).

The CP is intended to provide policy and regulatory guidance to FDA's field and headquarters staff with regard to medical device manufacturer inspections. It also contains information that may be useful to the regulated industry and to the public.

The CP is being issued as a guidance document and represents the agency's current thinking on the subject. It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public. FDA published a notice making a draft of the CP available for public comment in the Federal Register (64 FR 44024, August 12, 1999).

The agency has adopted good guidance practice (GGP) regulations (65 FR 56468, September 19, 2000) that set forth the agency's policies and procedures for the development, issuance, and use of guidance documents. This CP is issued as a level 1 guidance consistent with GGP's.
