

efforts to respond to the suspected or confirmed compromise and prevent, minimize, or remedy such harm.

7. The information collected through the voluntary Registry and speed tests, with the exception of any personally identifiable information, may be shared with public-private partnerships and with the Telecommunications Program of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Rural Development Agency. This sharing regime is described in the Commission's Broadband Data Order of 2008 (FCC 08–89).

In each of these cases, the FCC will determine whether disclosure of the records is compatible with the purpose for which the records were collected.

DISCLOSURE TO CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCIES:

None.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:

STORAGE:

The information includes the electronic data and records that are stored in the FCC's computer network databases.

RETRIEVABILITY:

Information in this system may be retrieved by the responses to the broadband internet access questions: (1) Broadband access (yes/no); (2) broadband service availability (check boxes for types of broadband services available at an individual's home); and (3) the individual's home address: street address, city, state, and zip code. Furthermore, the information may be retrieved and/or aggregated based upon other Broadband Quality Test variables, such as broadband speed, latency, jitter, and packet loss, among other broadband quality variables.

SAFEGUARDS:

Access to the information in the Public Registry of Broadband Unavailability, which is housed in the FCC's computer network databases, is restricted to authorized OMD supervisory and staff in the Planning and Support Group of ITC and other ITC staff and contractors who maintain these computer databases. Other employees and contractors may be granted access on a "need-to-know" basis. The FCC's computer network databases are protected by the FCC's security protocols, which include controlled access, passwords, and other security features. Information resident on the database servers is backed-up routinely onto magnetic media. Back-up tapes are stored on-site and at a secured location.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

The information in this system is limited to electronic files, records, and data, which pertains to the Public Registry of Broadband Unavailability, which includes:

- (1) the information obtained from individuals who participated in the Consumer Information survey; and
- (2) the information obtained from individuals who participated in the Speed Test.

Until the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) approves the retention and disposal schedule, these records will be treated as permanent.
