

for filing, and served it on the firm's clients, and the other who reviewed and redacted the document but failed to protect the other party's CBI.

Case 4. The Commission determined that an economic consultant breached the APO in a title VII investigation by making BPI available to unauthorized parties on three separate occasions.

The document that was the subject of all three breaches was a presentation slide prepared by the consultant's firm. The slide at issue contained unredacted BPI that revealed information in a chart about pricing data. The first breach occurred when copies of the slide were distributed during a meeting that included individuals who were not authorized under the APO to receive BPI. The second breach occurred at a second meeting, to additional unauthorized individuals who were not present at the first meeting. The third breach occurred at a public Commission hearing when the economic consulting firm displayed the slide in question on a large screen and distributed paper copies. At the conclusion of the presentation, a Commission employee approached the economic consultant to express concerns that the slide had exposed BPI. At the conclusion of the hearing, the economic consultant attempted to retrieve the paper copies from the recipients, which the Commission then collected.

In determining whether to issue a sanction for the breach, the Commission considered the following mitigating factors: (1) all three breaches were inadvertent and unintentional; (2) the breaching party took prompt action to remedy the third breach and prevent further dissemination of BPI; (3) the breaching party implemented new procedures to prevent against similar breaches in the future; and (4) the individual involved had not previously breached an APO in the two-year period preceding the dates of these breaches. The Commission also considered the following aggravating factors: (1) all three breaches resulted in the exposure of BPI to unauthorized individuals; (2) the breaching party violated the APO on three occasions; and (3) the breaching party did not discover the breaches.

The Commission issued a private letter of reprimand to the economic consultant responsible for creating, reviewing, and disseminating the slide to unauthorized individuals.

By order of the Commission.

Issued: December 17, 2024.

Lisa Barton,

Secretary to the Commission.
