Title of Collection: Disclosure Requirements Concerning Business Opportunities, 16 CFR part 437.

OMB Control Number: 3084–0142.

Type of Review: Extension without change of currently approved collection.

Affected Public: Private Sector: Businesses and other for-profit entities.

Estimated Annual Burden Hours: 10,065.

Estimated Annual Labor Costs: $703,141.

Estimated Annual Non-Labor Costs: $3,056,503.

Abstract: The Business Opportunity Rule requires business opportunity sellers to furnish prospective purchasers a disclosure document that provides information regarding the seller, the seller’s business, and the nature of the proposed business opportunity, as well as additional information to substantiate any claims about actual or potential sales, income, or profits for a prospective business opportunity purchaser. The seller must also preserve information that forms a reasonable basis for such claims.

The Rule is designed to ensure that prospective purchasers receive information to help them evaluate business opportunities. Sellers must disclose five key items of information in a simple, one-page document: (1) The seller’s identifying information; (2) whether the seller makes a claim about the purchaser’s likely earnings (and, if yes, the seller must provide information supporting any such claims); (3) whether the seller, its affiliates, or key personnel have been involved in certain legal actions (and, if yes, the seller must provide a separate list of those actions); (4) whether the seller has a cancellation or refund policy (and, if yes, the seller must provide a separate document stating the material terms of such policies); and (5) a list of persons who have purchased the business opportunity within the previous three years. Misrepresentations and omissions are prohibited under the Rule, and for sales conducted in languages other than English, all disclosures must be provided in the language in which the sale is conducted.

Burden Estimates

FTC staff estimates there are approximately 3,050 business opportunity sellers covered by the Rule, including vending machine, rack display, work-at-home, and other opportunity sellers. Of this total, staff estimates that on an annual basis approximately 90% are established sellers and the remaining 10% are new entrants (i.e., 2,745 existing business opportunity sellers plus 305 new entrants). In addition, staff estimates that approximately 92 business opportunity sellers market business opportunities in Spanish (in addition to English) and another 61 sellers market in languages other than English or Spanish (in addition to English).¹

A. Estimated Hours Burden

Compliance burdens will vary depending on a business opportunity seller's prior experience with the Rule. Appendices A and B to the Rule provide models of the required disclosure documents in both English and Spanish, reducing the potential burden that sellers may incur to provide the required disclosures. Commission staff estimates that 2,745 existing business opportunity sellers will require approximately two hours to update their disclosure documents annually. This yields a total annual burden of 5,490 hours for established sellers. Staff also projects that 305 new business opportunity sellers will require approximately five hours to develop their initial disclosure documents. This yields a total annual burden of approximately 1,525 hours. In addition, staff estimates that all business opportunity sellers will require approximately one hour to file and store required records for a total of 3,050 hours. This yields a cumulative total of 10,065 hours.

B. Estimated Labor Cost

The Commission determines estimated labor costs by applying applicable wage rates to the burden hours discussed above. Commission staff assumes that an attorney likely would prepare or update required disclosure documents at an approximate hourly rate of $69.86.² Accordingly, staff estimates that cumulative labor costs are $703,141 (10,065 hours × $69.86 per hour).

² This figure is derived from the mean hourly wage for Lawyers. See "Occupational Employment and Wages—May 2019," Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor (March 31, 2020), Table 1 ("National employment and wage data from the Occupational Employment Statistics survey by occupation, May 2019"), available at <https://www.bls.gov/news.release/pdf/ocwage.pdf>.

C. Estimated Non-Labor Costs

1. Printing and Mailing of the Disclosure Document

Business opportunity sellers may also incur costs to print and distribute the single-page disclosure document, plus any attachments. These costs vary based upon the length of the attachments and the number of copies produced to meet the expected demand. Commission staff estimates that 3,050 business opportunity sellers will print and mail approximately 1,000 disclosure documents per year at a cost of $1.00 per document, for a total cost of $3,050,000. Conceivably, many business opportunity sellers will elect to furnish disclosures electronically; thus, the total cost could be much less.

2. Translating the Required Disclosures Into a Language Other Than English

The costs associated with translating the disclosures will vary depending upon a business opportunity seller's prior experience and the language the seller uses to market business opportunities. Because Appendices A and B to the Rule provide illustrations of the required disclosure documents in both English and Spanish, business opportunity sellers marketing in Spanish will not incur costs to translate their disclosure documents. Existing sellers who market business opportunities in either Spanish or another non-English language may incur translation costs to update their disclosures over time. New entrants that market business opportunities in languages other than English or Spanish will incur costs to translate Appendix A into other languages.

Informed by Census data, FTC staff estimates that 92 sellers market business opportunities in Spanish and an additional 61 sellers market in languages other than English or Spanish. This includes an estimated 9 new entrants annually that market business opportunities in Spanish and 6 new entrants that market business opportunities in languages other than English or Spanish.

FTC staff estimates that approximately 137 existing business opportunity sellers are marketing business opportunities in languages other than English. Staff estimates these sellers will require on average approximately 250 words (about one standard, double-spaced page) to update initial disclosures. Therefore, staff estimates the total cost to translate the updates to sellers' initial disclosures is approximately $5,994 [137 sellers × (17.5³ cents per word × 250 words)].

In addition, staff estimates that new entrant business opportunity sellers marketing in languages other than English or Spanish will incur burden to translate the required disclosures. There are 485 words in Appendix A to the Rule. Therefore, staff estimates that the average annual cost burden for new business opportunity sellers to translate the required disclosures into a language other than English or Spanish will be approximately $509 [6 sellers × (17.5 cents per word × 485 words)].

Thus, cumulative estimated non-labor costs are $3,056,503 ($3,050,000 + $5,994 + $509).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Proposed Project

AHRQ Safety Program for Improving Surgical Care and Recovery

This is a quality improvement project that aims to provide technical assistance to hospitals to help them implement evidence-based practices to improve outcomes and prevent complications among patients who undergo surgery. Enhanced recovery pathways are a constellation of preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative practices that decrease complications and accelerate recovery. A number of studies and meta-analyses have demonstrated successful results. In order to facilitate broader adoption of these evidence-based practices among U.S. hospitals, this AHRQ project will adapt the Comprehensive Unit-based Safety Program (CUSP), which has been demonstrated to be an effective approach to reducing other patient harms, to enhanced recovery of surgical patients. The approach uses a combination of clinical and cultural (i.e., technical and adaptive) intervention components. The adaptive elements include promoting leadership and frontline staff engagement, close teamwork among surgeons, anesthesia providers, and nurses, as well as enhancing patient communication and engagement. Interested hospitals will voluntarily participate.

This project has the following goals:

- Improve outcomes of surgical patients by disseminating and supporting implementation of evidence-based enhanced recovery practices within the CUSP framework
- Develop a bundle of technical and adaptive interventions and associated tools and educational materials to support implementation
- Provide technical assistance and training to hospitals for implementing enhanced recovery practices
- Assess the adoption and evaluate the effectiveness of the intervention among the participating hospitals

This project is being conducted by AHRQ through its contractor, Johns Hopkins Armstrong Institute for Patient Safety and Quality (JHU), with subcontractors, University of California,
