Through consultation with representatives of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe of the Southern Ute Reservation, Colorado, the cultural affiliation of these four items with the Southern Ute Indian Tribe of the Southern Ute Reservation, Colorado was determined and the identification of the items as sacred objects was established. The Southern Ute Indian Tribe's "original territory" and ancestral homelands extended throughout the Four Corners region. According to Ute oral traditional knowledge, "the Utes were created by Sinaway (the Creator) and were placed in the mountains. The Sinaway told the people they would be few in number but, they would be strong warriors, and protectors of their lands. There is no migration story, we were placed here in the mountains, we have always been here, we will always be here."
