SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Committee was established pursuant to section 14008 of the Food Conservation and Energy Act of 2008, Public Law 110-246, 122 Stat. 1651, 2008 (7 U.S.C. 2279), to ensure that socially disadvantaged farmers (i.e., minority farmers) have equal access to USDA programs. The committee members also advise the Secretary on implementation of section 2501 of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990 (the 2501 Program); maximizing the participation of minority farmers and ranchers in USDA programs; and civil rights activities within the Department relative to participants in its programs.

The Secretary appoints a diverse group of committee members who represent the broadest possible range of minority farmers, ranchers, and stakeholders—bringing their lived-experiences to the fore. These representative committee members look closely at challenges and issues adversely affecting many minority farming communities; consider ways to bridge the gap in customer service delivery; examine continued barriers to program participation (e.g., how the USDA might lessen the burdens of process and procedure); and needful action through which minority farmers and ranchers might finally attain equity in agricultural pursuits with USDA assistance.

In accordance with Federal civil rights law and U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) civil rights regulations and policies, USDA, its Agencies, offices, and employees, and institutions participating in or administering USDA programs are prohibited from discriminating based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, gender identity (including gender expression), sexual orientation, disability, age, marital status, family or parental status, income derived from a public assistance program, political beliefs, or reprisal or retaliation for prior civil rights activity, in any program or activity conducted or funded by USDA (not all bases apply to all programs). Remedies and complaint filing deadlines vary by program or incident.

Equal opportunity practices in accordance with USDA's policies will be followed in all appointments to the Committee. To ensure that the recommendations of the Committee have taken into account the needs of the diverse groups served by the Department, membership shall include, to the extent practicable, individuals with demonstrated ability to represent the many communities, identities, races, ethnicities, backgrounds, abilities, cultures, and beliefs of the American people, including underserved communities.

Agenda: On Day 1 (July 23), the public meeting will begin with Committee member introductions and overview and comments from the Chairperson. The Committee will next hear from the USDA Equity Commission Co-Chairpersons, who will share about the Commission and its accomplishments in the first term and their shared vision for the USDA. Leadership from USDA's Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights will follow with an opening keynote address. The first day of the public meeting will end at 1:00 p.m. after which the Committee members will visit with local producers in New York State.

On Days 2 and 3 (July 24 and 25), the Committee will review specific topics from its most recent set of recommendations (July 2023). The members will engage with USDA agencies on status updates, discussions on implementation and timelines for recommendations (as appropriate). The following agencies will report out and update the Committee over the course of two days: Farm Service Agency; Office Urban Agriculture and Innovative Production, Rural Development; Agricultural Marketing Services; National Agricultural Statistics Service (Ag Census); Forest Services; National Institutes of Food and Agriculture; Office of the Secretary (OPPE) on topics in outreach and communications; history of the 1890 institutions; and several invited speakers will explore the history, current, and projected conditions affecting minority farming communities. On Day 3 (July 25) the public meeting will end with a moderated discussion led by Equity Commission Members on the topic of contracting with the USDA. On each day there will be opportunities for the public to make statements for the Committee's consideration and will be made a part of the record of both morning and afternoon sessions.
