SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Title of Collection: Payday Loan Disclosure Testing.

OMB Control Number: 3170–0022.

Type of Review: Request for approval of a generic information collection under an existing Generic Information Collection Plan.

Affected Public: Individuals and Households.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 400.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 74.

Abstract: The Bureau has hired a contractor to conduct one-on-one consumer interviews with participants to evaluate and refine potential options for a Bureau-designed payday loan disclosure.

Through this research effort, the Bureau aims to build upon previous academic research on payday disclosures and create disclosures that present key information clearly and effectively. The Bureau will collect information on how consumers locate, comprehend, and use information in the disclosures. Respondents will review disclosure forms and be asked questions about their impressions of the form, comprehension of information presented, usability, and decision making. Usability questions will focus on the impressions consumers take away from the form given the content and layout of the form. Decision making questions will focus on how participants use the information given to assess the cost, payment, and timing of the loan.

The results of this testing (estimated to conclude September 2021) may be used, along with other Bureau considerations, to inform the decision-making process around whether to move forward with a rulemaking related to payday loan disclosures.

Request for Comments: The Bureau is publishing this notice and soliciting comments on: (a) Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Bureau, including whether the information will have practical utility; (b) The accuracy of the Bureau’s estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methods and the assumptions used; (c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) Ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology. Comments submitted in response to this notice will be submitted to OMB as part of its review of this request. All comments will become a matter of public record.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Background. USACE, in partnership with the Harris County Flood Control District (HCFCD), as the non-Federal sponsor, began a feasibility study in 2018 to identify, evaluate, and recommend actions to reduce flood risks along Buffalo Bayou and its tributaries, both upstream and downstream of Addicks and Barker dams. The study will also complete a Dam Safety Modification Evaluation on Addicks and Barker dams. The BBTRS is authorized under Section 216 of the Flood Control Act of 1970 (Pub. L. 91-611) and existing project authority. Section 216 authorizes USACE to review a completed navigation, flood risk reduction, water supply, or related project due to significantly changed physical or economic conditions, and to report to Congress with recommendations regarding modification of the project's structures or operation, and for improving the quality of the environment in the overall public interest.

2. Interim Report. On October 2, 2020, the USACE released an Interim Report for the study. The Interim Report presents alternatives that could reduce the risk of flooding in the Buffalo Bayou, Addicks Reservoir, Barker Reservoir, and upper Cypress Creek watersheds in Harris, Fort Bend, and Waller counties, Texas. The report also evaluates alternatives for dam safety modifications to the Addicks and Barker dams. The report does not identify a preferred alternative nor does it make any recommendations or decisions.

The Interim Report is an added step to the feasibility study process and is intended to explain updated
