BTS hereby notifies the respondents and the public that BTS uses the information it collects under this OMB approval for non-statistical purposes including, but not limited to, publication of both Respondent's identity and its data, submission of the information to agencies outside BTS for review, analysis and possible use in regulatory and other administrative matters.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Georgia Fair Lending Act (GFLA)¹ became effective October 1, 2002. The GFLA restricts the ability of creditors or servicers to charge certain fees and engage in certain practices for three categories of loans defined by the GFLA: “home loans,” “covered home loans,” and “high-cost home loans.” The characterization of a loan within each of these categories depends on the annual percentage rate and the amount of points and fees charged.² All “home loans” are subject to certain restrictions on the terms of credit and loan-related fees, including prohibitions on the financing of credit insurance, debt cancellation coverage or suspension coverage, and limitations on late fees and payoff statement fees.

In addition to the restrictions on “home loans,” “covered home loans” are subject to restrictions on the number of times a loan may be refinanced and the circumstances in which a refinancing may occur. For example, the GFLA prohibits a creditor from refinancing an existing home loan that is less than five years old with a “covered home loan” that does not provide a reasonable “tangible net benefit” to the borrower considering all the circumstances.

“High-cost home loans” are subject to the restrictions on “home loans” and “covered home loans,” as well as numerous disclosure requirements and restrictions on the terms of credit and
