II. Background

A. What Action is the Agency Taking?

EPA has reassessed the uses of tridemorph, reassessed one existing tolerance or legal residue limit, and on January 11, 2006, reached a tolerance reassessment decision for this low risk pesticide. Tridemorph is a systemic fungicide used to control yellow and black sigatoka on imported bananas and plantain. There are no U.S. registrations for tridemorph. The Agency is now issuing for comment the resulting Report on Food Quality Protection Act (FQPA) Tolerance Reassessment Progress and Risk Management Decision for tridemorph, known as a TRED, as well as related risk assessments and technical support documents.

EPA developed the tridemorph TRED through a modified, streamlined version of its public process for making tolerance reassessment and reregistration eligibility decisions. Through these programs, the Agency is ensuring that pesticides meet current standards under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA) and the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended by FQPA. EPA must review tolerances and tolerance exemptions that were in effect when the FQPA was enacted, to ensure that these existing pesticide residue limits for food and feed commodities meet the safety standard established by the new law. Tolerances are considered reassessed once the safety finding has been made or a revocation occurs. EPA has reviewed and made the requisite safety finding for the tridemorph tolerances included in this notice.

EPA is applying the principles of public participation to all pesticides undergoing reregistration and tolerance reassessment. The Agency's Pesticide Tolerance Reassessment and Reregistration; Public Participation Process, published in the Federal Register of May 14, 2004 (69 FR 26819) (FRL-7357-9) explains that in conducting these programs, the Agency is tailoring its public participation process to be commensurate with the level of risk, extent of use, complexity of issues, and degree of public concern associated with each pesticide. EPA can expeditiously reach decisions for pesticides like tridemorph, which pose no risk concerns and require no risk mitigation. Once EPA assesses uses and risks for such low risk pesticides, the Agency may go directly to a decision and prepare a document summarizing its findings, such as the tridemorph TRED.

The tolerance reassessment program is being conducted under Congressionally mandated time frames, and EPA recognizes the need both to make timely decisions and to involve the public in finding ways to effectively mitigate pesticide risks. Tridemorph, however, poses no risks that require mitigation. The Agency therefore is issuing the tridemorph TRED, its risk assessments, and related support documents simultaneously for public comment. The comment period is intended to provide an opportunity for public input and a mechanism for initiating any necessary amendments to the TRED. All comments should be submitted using the methods in Unit I of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION, and must be received by EPA on or before the closing date. These comments will become part of the Agency Docket for tridemorph. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked "late." EPA is not required to consider these late comments.

EPA will carefully consider all comments received by the closing date and will provide a Response to Comments Memorandum in the Docket and electronic EDOCKET. If any comment significantly affects the document, EPA also will publish an amendment to the TRED in the Federal Register. In the absence of substantive comments requiring changes, the decisions reflected in the TRED will be implemented as presented.

B. What is the Agency's Authority for Taking this Action?

Section 408(q) of the FFDCA, 21 U.S.C. 346a(q), requires EPA to review tolerances and exemptions for pesticide residues in effect as of August 2, 1996, to determine whether the tolerance or exemption meets the requirements of section 408(b)(2) or (c)(2) of FFDCA. This review is to be completed by August 3, 2006.

II. Did EPA Conditionally Approve the Application?

A conditional registration may be granted under section 3(c)(7)(C) of FIFRA for a new active ingredient where certain data are lacking, on condition that such data are received by the end of the conditional registration period and do not meet or exceed the risk criteria set forth in 40 CFR 154.7; that use of the pesticide during the conditional registration period will not cause unreasonable adverse effects; and that use of the pesticide is in the public interest. The Agency has considered the available data on the risks associated with the proposed use of Muscodorus albus QST 20799, and information on social, economic, and environmental benefits to be derived from such use. Specifically, the Agency has considered the nature and its pattern of use, application methods and rates, and level and extent of potential exposure. Based on these reviews, the Agency was able to make basic health and safety determinations which show that use of Muscodorus albus QST 20799 during the period of conditional registration will not cause any unreasonable adverse effect on the environment, and that use of the pesticide is, in the public interest. Consistent with section 3(c)(7)(C) of FIFRA, the Agency has determined that these conditional registrations are in the public interest. Use of the pesticides are of significance to the user community, and appropriate labeling, use directions, and other measures have been taken to ensure that use of the pesticides will not result in unreasonable adverse effects to man and the environment.

III. Conditionally Approved Registrations

EPA issued a notice, published in the Federal Register of April 14, 2004 (69

FR 19845) (FRL-7352-7), which announced that AgraQuest, Inc., 1530 Drew Avenue, Davis, CA 95616, had submitted an application to conditionally register the pesticide product, Muscodorus albus strain QST 20799, biofumigant (EPA File Symbol 69592-RU), containing Muscodorus albus QST 20799, a microbial fungal active ingredient at 2.1%, an active ingredient not included in any previously registered product.

This application also included registration of three end-use products (EPs), each containing 0.35% of Muscodorus albus QST 20799. The EPs are: Arabesque (EPA File Symbol 69592-RL); Andante (EPA File Symbol 69592-RT); and Glissade (EPA File Symbol 69592-RI).

The applications were conditionally approved on September 22, 2005 for three end-use products each containing 0.35% of Muscodorus albus QST 20799 and a manufacturing use product containing this microbial active ingredient at 2.1%.

The conditionally approved products are:

1. Muscodorus albus strain QST 20799: For manufacturing use; for formulating into end-use products. (EPA Registration Number 69592-14).

2. Arabesque: For the control of post harvest diseases of food and non-food commodities, and preplant control of seed, bulb, and tuber borne diseases of food and non-food commodities (EPA Registration Number 69592-15).

3. Andante: For use as a methyl bromide replacement to control soil fungi and nematodes (EPA Registration Number 69592-17).

4. Glissade: For control of soil diseases for food and non-food commodities (EPA Registration Number 69592-18).

As a condition of registration, the registrant is required to provide a rodent study to confirm that the volatiles produced on rehydration of the pesticide do not pose an inhalation hazard. These volatiles occur naturally as flavors and fragrances in foods and beverages. Neither the parent microbe nor the volatile will have adverse effects on humans and the environment via dietary, cumulative and aggregate exposure as based on the evaluation of toxicological studies submitted by the registrant.
