

inadequacies lead to safety problems, reduced levels of service, and transportation inefficiencies.

The proposed improvement of US 23/US 52 would meet the intent of the Appalachian Regional Commission, as well as the goals of Access Ohio, of improving mobility along this macro corridor in order to encourage economic development. The US 23/US 52 corridor is part of Appalachian Corridor B and a larger roadway network connecting Columbus, Ohio to Asheville, North Carolina. With US 23 upgrades either completed or under construction south of Ohio, the only gaps remaining in this route will be in Ohio. Substantial transportation improvements in the study area could close an important "missing link" in the overall corridor.

Letters describing the proposed action and soliciting comments will be sent to appropriate Federal, State, and local agencies, and to private organizations and citizens who have previously expressed or are known to have interest in this proposal. A series of public meetings will be held in the project area. These are currently anticipated for Summer of 2002 and Winter of 2003. In addition, a hearing will be held in conjunction with the Draft EIS in late 2003. Public notice will be given of the exact time and place of the meetings and hearing to be held for the project. The Draft EIS will be available for public and agency review and comment prior to the public hearing. No formal scoping meeting is planned at this time.

To ensure that the full range of issues relating to this proposed action are addressed, and all significant issues identified, comments and suggestions are invited from all interested parties. Comments or questions concerning this proposed action and the EIS should be sent to the FHWA at the address provided above.
