

continue to assess market-based fees, whenever practical and feasible.

(9) 40 U.S.C. § 1314. As discussed in greater detail in Section 4.b(1)(D), above, this easement authority may be used to site antennas and related equipment on Federal property under GSA's jurisdiction, custody or control. The grant may be made without consideration, or with monetary or other consideration, at the discretion of the head of the agency.

(10) Section 412 of the GSA General Provisions, Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2005, Pub. L. 108-447 (Dec. 8, 2004). This provision granted GSA new and additional real property disposition authority and the authority to retain proceeds from the disposal of its real property. In addition to giving GSA authority to retain the net proceeds from its real property disposals, Section 412 granted GSA additional new authority to dispose of its real and related personal property by various means, including by sale, lease, exchange, or otherwise. This authority is in addition to GSA's numerous other existing statutory authorities applicable to the use and disposal of real property under its jurisdiction, custody or control. For GSA-controlled property leased under Section 412 to accommodate antennas and related equipment, the proceeds of any such lease would be deposited into GSA's Federal Buildings Fund.

(11) Subchapters III and IV of Chapter 5 of Subtitle I of Title 40 of the United States Code. These are GSA's traditional authorities for the disposal of surplus property. Surplus real property may be leased under these authorities to site antennas and related equipment on property under the jurisdiction, custody or control of GSA. In light of the Section 412 authority discussed in the immediately preceding paragraph, GSA may now retain the proceeds from such disposals and deposit them into the Federal Buildings Fund.

(12) Federal Management Regulation, 41 C.F.R. §§ 102-79.70 - 79.100. As discussed in Section 4.b(1)(E), above, these sections provide regulatory guidance on siting antennas on Federal property under the jurisdiction, custody or control of GSA.

(13) Office of Management and Budget Circular A-25. As discussed in Section 4.b(1)(G), above, this OMB Circular provides guidelines that GSA should use to assess fees for services it offers and for the sale or use of property or resources under its jurisdiction, custody or control.
