National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES) DNA Samples: Guidelines for Proposals To Use Samples and Cost Schedule

AGENCY: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES) is a program of periodic surveys conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Examination surveys conducted since 1960 by NCHS have provided national estimates of the health and nutritional status of the U.S. civilian noninstitutionalized population. To add to the extensive amount of information collected for the purpose of describing the health of the population, DNA specimens were collected during two NHANES surveys. DNA is available in the form of crude lysates of cell lines derived from approximately 7,157 participants enrolled in Phase II of NHANES III (1991–1994). In addition, DNA purified from whole blood is also available from approximately 7,900 participants enrolled in the 1999–2002 NHANES survey years. All specimens (NHANES III and NHANES 1999–2002) were sent to the Division of Laboratory Sciences (DLS) at the National Center for Environmental Health (NCEH) for processing. DNA samples from these specimens are being made available to the research community for genetic analyses.

No funding is provided as part of this solicitation. NCHS will begin to accept proposals after the publication of this notice and will continue to accept proposals on an on-going basis.

Proposals received within 60 days of the notice will complete review approximately 180 days after the notice is published. After this initial review of proposals, all proposal categories will be reviewed twice a year beginning January 1 and July 1 of each year. Unforeseen circumstances could result in a change to this schedule. Proposals will be reviewed by a technical panel and by an internal Secondary Review Committee of senior CDC scientists. The Secondary Review Committee will perform a programmatic review based on the results of the technical review panel and consider the scientific and technical results from the first level of review, important programmatic considerations such as program priorities, program relevance, and other criteria germane to this announcement and to CDC. Projects approved by both reviews will be submitted to the NCHS Ethics Review Board for final approval.

Approved projects that do not obtain funding on their own will be canceled. A more complete description of this program follows.

DATES: • Submission of Proposals: December 17, 2007, and thereafter on January 1 and July 1.

• Scientific Review: 30 days after proposal submission date.

• Secondary Review: Approximately 30 days after Scientific review is complete.

• Ethics Review Board: Approximately 30 days after Secondary review is complete.

• Notification of approval: Approximately 30 days after ERB approval.

• Anticipated distribution of samples: Approximately 60 days after all approvals are obtained.

Note: Timeframe may vary depending on the nature of the proposal and the results of each level of review. Unforeseen circumstances could result in a change to this schedule.

ADDRESSES: To send comments and for information, contact: Christopher Sanders, Division of Health and Nutrition Examination Surveys, National Center for Health Statistics, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 3311 Toledo Road, Room 4203, Hyattsville, MD 20782, Phone: 301-458-4840, FAX: 301-458-4028, E-mail: NHANESgenetics@cdc.gov.

Authority: Sections 301 and 306 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 241 and 242k).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The goals of NHANES are (1) to estimate the number and percentage of people in the U.S. population and designated subgroups with selected diseases and risk factors for those diseases; (2) to monitor trends in the prevalence, awareness, treatment and control of selected diseases; (3) to monitor trends in risk behaviors and environmental exposures; (4) to analyze risk factors for selected diseases; (5) to study the relation among diet, nutrition and health; (6) to explore emerging public health issues and new technologies; (7) to establish and maintain a national probability sample of baseline information on health and nutritional status.

The availability of the NHANES III DNA samples has been previously announced (Thursday, August 8, 2002 [67 FR 51585] and Friday, January 13, 2006 [71 FR 22248]). NHANES III DNA samples are in the form of crude cell lysates available from the cell lines derived from samples obtained from Phase II (1991–1994) participants. DNA concentrations are unknown and vary between samples (see NHANES III DNA Samples section for a description).

Beginning in 1999, NHANES became a continuous, annual survey rather than a periodic survey. For a variety of reasons, including disclosure and reliability issues, the survey data are released on public use data files every two years. In addition to the analysis of data from any two year cycle, it is possible to combine two cycles to increase sample size and analytic options. Blood samples for DNA purification were collected from participants age 20 or more years in survey years 1999–2002. Purified DNA samples are available from these survey years in a single set. DNA samples can be obtained and analyzed with survey data from the NHANES 1999–2000 or 2001–2002 or all four years combined (NHANES 1999–2002). The data release cycle for the NHANES during the period in which DNA specimens were collected is described as NHANES 1999–2000 and NHANES 2001–2002.
