the October 2022 FRN (Figure 2). In addition, the Representative Sample Insurers are the 14 largest homeowners insurance groups and, as a result, they may experience internal synergies and efficiencies when completing the Data Collection Form. Thus, the total number of hours that it may take all Representative Sample Insurers to collect, process, and complete the Data Collection Form may be less than the number of hours that FIO has estimated here.

	October 2022 FRN	Current estimates
Hours per homeowners insurance entity	100 to 350	60 to 200
Total hours for all Representative Sample Insurers	21,300 to 74,550	14,400 to 48,000
Hourly rate	$54.27	$58.30
Total cost for all Representative Sample Insurers	$1,155,951 to $4,045,829	$839,520 to $2,798,400

Analysis of Data Collected

FIO currently plans to analyze the data collected using trend or time-series analysis. In the time-series analysis, FIO will assess trends in underwriting, claims, and loss metrics, normalized on a per-policy, premium, or coverage basis to allow for comparison across ZIP Codes, for owner-occupied homeowners multi-peril (HO–3 form) policies over the last six years. In addition to the data collected on the Data Collection Forms, FIO's analysis will rely on several types of data that may include, but are not limited to, publicly available insurance information such as residual market information, information on the relative risks that locations face from climate-related events, and data used to control for other changes in a ZIP Code that could influence insurance markets (e.g., inflation, real estate values, or changes in population). At a later stage, FIO may consider using additional methodologies, including multivariate statistical analysis.

Submission of Data

Reporting under this data collection would be mandatory for all Representative Sample Insurers. If OMB approves this data collection, the Representative Sample Insurers will be expected to submit the completed Data Collection Form through a secure Treasury web portal within 90 days of FIO publishing a Federal Register notice announcing the start of the data collection. (FIO has extended the time period which the Representative Sample Insurers will have to submit the information from 60 days to 90 days to ensure that they have sufficient time to gather and provide the requested data.)

FIO intends to provide training and additional resources within the data collection period to facilitate the proper completion of reporting templates.

Given the potential sensitivity of some of the requested data, FIO will seek to maintain the data submitted in a confidential manner. The FIO Act includes provisions addressing the privacy or confidentiality of submissions of non-publicly available data and information to FIO.[28] In accordance with the FIO Act, submissions pursuant to this data collection will not constitute a waiver of, or otherwise affect, any privilege arising under federal or state law to which the data or information is otherwise subject.[29] FIO expects that data it receives under this collection will likely contain or consist of ''trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person and privileged or confidential.'' This type of information is subject to withholding under exemption 4 of the Freedom of Information Act.[30]

All data collection is expected to be completed through a secure portal maintained by Treasury, and FIO will not publish confidential firm-specific data from individual submissions. FIO may publish aggregated analyses of the submitted information.
