SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

NRCS plans to revise the conservation practice standards in the NHCP. This notice provides an overview of the planned changes and gives the public an opportunity to offer comments on the specific conservation practice standards and NRCS's proposed changes.

NRCS State Conservationists who choose to adopt these practices in their States will incorporate these practices into the respective electronic Field Office Technical Guide. These practices may be used in conservation systems that treat highly erodible land (HEL) or on land determined to be wetland. Section 343 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104-127) requires NRCS to make available for public review and comment all proposed revisions to conservation practice standards used to carry out HEL and wetland provisions of the law.

Revisions to the National Handbook of Conservation Practices

The amount of the proposed changes varies considerably for each of the conservation practice standards addressed in this notice. To fully understand the proposed changes, individuals are encouraged to compare these changes with each standard's current version, which can be found at: <https://www.nrcs.usda.gov/resources/guides-and-instructions/conservation-practice-standards>.

NRCS is requesting comments on the following conservation practice standards:

- Anaerobic Digester (Code 366);
- Drainage Water Management (Code 554);
- Irrigation and Drainage Tailwater Recovery (Code 447);
- Pond Sealing or Lining, Geomembrane or Geosynthetic Clay Liner (Code 521);
- Roofs and Covers (Code 367); and
- Surface Drain, Main or Lateral (Code 608).

The following are highlights of some of the proposed changes to each standard:

Anaerobic Digester (Code 366): Reorganized requirements and clarified wording and formatting to increase readability of the standard. Aligned criteria with other Conservation Practice Standards and planning criteria to maintain consistency. Strengthened requirements to account for effects of nutrients and hazardous gases when implementing anaerobic digesters. Incorporated a limited allowance for emergency venting of biogas when the operation of a flare would lead to an exceedance of local air pollution regulations.

Drainage Water Management (Code 554): Clarified wording and formatting to increase readability of the standard.

Added text to general criteria section that the project is required to comply with Federal, State, Tribal, and local laws, and regulations. Also clarified within general criteria section the allowance of manual and automation technology. Added text to the additional criteria to "Reduce Nutrient, Pathogen, and Pesticide Loading" section.

Irrigation and Drainage Tailwater Recovery (Code 447): Clarified wording and formatting to increase readability of the standard. Added text to general criteria section that the project is required to comply with Federal, state, tribal, and local laws, and regulations. The water quality practice purpose was clarified to include downstream drinking water source improvement.

Pond Sealing or Lining, Geomembrane or Geosynthetic Clay Liner (Code 521): Revised the materials table; the gas venting, water drainage, and leak detection criteria; and the slope requirements. Also, added new considerations on safety, leak detection, and liner protection.

Roofs and Covers (Code 367): Clarified wording and formatting to increase readability of the standard. The purpose was updated to be consistent with the resource concern list. The allowable flexible cover material thickness was updated based on industry standard change.

Surface Drain, Main or Lateral (Code 608): Added statement that the project is required to comply with all Federal, State, Tribal and local laws, rules, and regulations. Removed statement on wetland determinations to make the standard more consistent with other drainage standards. Added other minor changes to improve clarity and readability.
