

rulemaking on these issues, there will be another round of public comment. We invite the public to send us information and comments relating to the following issues:

1. Whether pilots and other flight crew members should carry firearms of less-than-lethal weapons, and if so, whether it should be on a voluntary basis;
2. Whether and how the weapons should be stored on the aircraft or carried on board;
3. The types and numbers of less-than-lethal weapons that should be carried on aircraft for use by qualified flight deck crew members;
4. The types of restraining devices or other kinds of equipment that should be on aircraft;
5. The types and numbers of firearms that should be carried on aircraft for use by qualified pilots and the types of ammunition;
6. The amount and type of weapons training that we should require, including whether there should be initial and recurrent training.
7. How the less-than-lethal weapons and firearms should be carried, stored, maintained (if necessary), and accessed on the aircraft.
8. What types of aircraft modifications we should require when aircraft are equipped with less-than-lethal weapons or firearms, such as modifications to ventilation or avionics systems;
9. Whether the qualifications for using less-than-lethal weapons or firearms should be integrated into the existing systems for establishing and maintaining airman qualifications, such as pilot certificates and ratings;
10. The circumstances under which less-than-lethal weapons may be used;
11. How to identify individuals who are willing to provide emergency services on commercial flights;
12. Whether to maintain a registry of some or all of these individuals;
13. The minimum qualifications of those who would provide emergency services on commercial air flights; and
14. The type of training providers of emergency services on commercial air flights should have.

We invite the public to raise any additional issues or concerns related to these issues, including any other factors that we should consider addressing in our recommendations.
