Institute of Medicine. Enabling America Assessing the Role of Rehabilitation Science and Engineering. Brandt EN, Pope AM, Editors. National Academy Press, Washington, DC 1997. Published epidemiological studies of TBI are also reviewed in the section entitled "Epidemiology of Traumatic Brain Injury in the United States" located at the Internet Website of the CDC National Center for Injury Prevention and Control http://www.cdc.gov/ncipc/dacrrdp/tbi.htm.

Definitions:

Traumatic brain injury (TBI) and essential data elements for TBI surveillance are fully defined in CDC's Guidelines for Surveillance of Central Nervous System Injury. (For ordering a copy of the Guidelines, see Section J.—Where to Obtain Additional Information.)

Surveillance is the ongoing, systematic collection, analysis, and interpretation of health data necessary for designing, implementing, and evaluating public health programs.

Impairment: Any loss or abnormality of physiological, or anatomical structure or function.

Restriction in Activity (Disability): Any restriction or lack (resulting from an impairment) of ability to perform an activity in the manner or within the range considered normal for a human being.

Restriction in participation (Handicaps): a disadvantage for a given individual, resulting from an impairment or a disability, that limits or prevents the fulfillment of a role that is normal (depending on age, sex, and social and cultural factors) for that individual.

A population-based follow-up system is defined as a system of ongoing registration of, and collection of information about, all or a representative sample of all cases of a condition in a defined population, such that cases can be related to the population base.

Elements of Disability:

Impairment: Any loss or abnormality of physiological, or anatomical structure or function.

Restriction in Activity (Disability): Any restriction or lack (resulting from an impairment) of ability to perform an activity in the manner or within the range considered normal for a human being.

Restriction in participation (Handicaps): a disadvantage for a given individual, resulting from an impairment or a disability, that limits or prevents the fulfillment of a role that is normal (depending on age, sex, and social and cultural factors) for that individual.

The NTP Center for the Evaluation of Risks to Human Reproduction (CERHR) Expert Panel Report on the Developmental and Reproductive Toxicity of Methanol: Notice of Availability and Request for Public Comments

Summary

Notice is hereby given of the availability of the Expert Panel Report on the Developmental and Reproductive Toxicity of Methanol. This report includes the summaries and conclusions of the expert panel's evaluation of the scientific data for potential reproductive and/or developmental hazards associated with exposure to methanol. The CERHR held this expert panel meeting in October 2001. CERHR is seeking public comment on these reports and additional information about recent, relevant toxicology or human exposure studies.

Availability of Reports

The expert panel report is available electronically on the CERHR web site (http://cerhr.niehs.nih.gov) and in printed copy by contacting the CERHR (PO Box 12233, MD EC–32, Research Triangle Park, NC 27709; telephone: (919) 541–3455; fax: (919) 316–4511; or e-mail: shelby@niehs.nih.gov).

Request for Public Comments

The CERHR invites public comments on the expert panel report and input regarding any recent, relevant toxicology or human exposure studies. The CERHR asks that all comments and other information be submitted to the
