

How is the Liability of Owners and Operators Affected?

These provisions do not affect or alter the liability of any owner or operator of an underground storage tank system. Owners and operators must still comply with all applicable technical regulations. For example, they must comply with the requirements to report releases, perform necessary corrective action, and maintain financial responsibility to pay for corrective action and for compensation of third parties for bodily injury and property damage.

What Enforcement Authority Must States Have for Financial Responsibility and Installer Certification?

At a minimum, States must have comparable enforcement authorities for violations of their financial responsibility and installer certification requirements as they have for violations of current underground storage tank requirements.

How Will States Demonstrate Compliance With These Guidelines?

After February 8, 2007, the effective date of the financial responsibility and installer certification requirements, and before receiving future grant funding, States must provide one of the following to EPA:

- For a State that has met the requirements for financial responsibility and installer certification, the State must submit a certification indicating that the State meets the requirements in the guidelines.
- For a State that has not yet met the requirements for financial responsibility and installer certification, the State must provide a document that describes the State's efforts to meet the requirements. This document must include:

- A description of the State's activities to date to meet the requirements in the guidelines;
- A description of the State's planned activities to meet the requirements; and
- The date by which the State expects to meet the requirements.

EPA may verify State certification of compliance through site visits, record reviews, or audits, as authorized by 40 CFR part 31.

How Will EPA Enforce States' Compliance With The Requirements In These Guidelines?

As a matter of law, each State that receives funding under Subtitle I, which would include a Leaking Underground Storage Tank (LUST) Cooperative Agreement, must comply with certain underground storage tank requirements of Subtitle I. EPA anticipates State and Tribal Assistance Grants (STAG) funds will be available for inspection and other underground storage tank compliance activities. EPA will also condition STAG grants with compliance with these guidelines. Absent a compelling reason to the contrary, EPA expects to address noncompliance with these STAG grant conditions by utilizing EPA's grant enforcement authorities under 40 CFR part 31.43, as necessary and appropriate.

Background About The Energy Policy Act Of 2005

On August 8, 2005, President Bush signed the Energy Policy Act of 2005. Title XV, Subtitle B of this act (entitled the Underground Storage Tank Compliance Act) contains amendments to Subtitle I of the Solid Waste Disposal Act—the original legislation that created the underground storage tank (UST) program. These amendments significantly affect Federal and State underground storage tank programs, will require major changes to the programs, and are aimed at reducing underground storage tank releases to our environment.

The amendments focus on preventing releases. Among other things, they expand eligible uses of the Leaking Underground Storage Tank (LUST) Trust Fund and include provisions regarding inspections, operator training, delivery prohibition, secondary containment and financial responsibility, and cleanup of releases that contain oxygenated fuel additives.

Some of these provisions require implementation by August 2006; others will require implementation in subsequent years. To implement the new law, EPA and States will work closely with tribes, other Federal agencies, tank owners and operators, and other stakeholders to bring about the mandated changes affecting underground storage tank facilities.

To see the full text of this new legislation and for more information about EPA's work to implement the underground storage tank provisions of the law, see: http://www.epa.gov/oust/fedlaws/nrg05_01.htm.
