SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Post-Katrina Emergency Management Reform Act of 2006 (PKEMRA), Public Law 109–205, as amended by the Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, Public Law 110–53, established an annual requirement for a State Preparedness Report (SPR). A State receiving Federal preparedness assistance administered by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) must submit a report to the FEMA Administrator on the State's level of preparedness. Each report must include an assessment of current capability levels and a description of target capability levels, and an assessment of resources needed to meet the preparedness priorities established under PKEMRA Section 646(e). The resource assessments must include (i) An estimate of the amount of expenditures required to attain the preparedness priorities; and (ii) the extent to which the use of Federal assistance during the preceding fiscal year achieved the preparedness priorities.

In order to comply with PKEMRA's requirement for annual assessments, the SPR data needs to be collected from States by the end of calendar year 2011. The use of normal clearance procedures will not allow timely collection of this information until 2012. Emergency authorization is thus necessary to comply with the requirements of PKEMRA.
