Abstract: AmeriCorps NCCC program members have been a crucial part of AmeriCorps' COVID–19 pandemic response, serving as personnel on vaccine distribution mission assignments alongside FEMA and other agencies. No one could have anticipated the COVID–19 pandemic, but we have seized an opportunity to develop questions that build on the existing study but are specific to these ongoing activities.

These activities are an essential element of our agency's COVID–19 pandemic response—one that is also essential to our mission—to improve lives and strengthen communities. To further our mission in a time of increasing uncertainty, we aim to collect information on current activity that must be measured now in order to assess, identify, and make any identified programmatic changes. Peak performance of these projects is crucial to our agency's COVID–19 pandemic response and public safety writ large.

Vaccine delivery is of increasing importance as the COVID–19 pandemic continues an unpredictable course. In time, we hope, the pandemic will subside, but it is crucial that we analyze these mission assignments now to make improvements that will literally save lives. How will this save lives? Currently, just over 50% of Americans are fully vaccinated against the virus (Source: CDC.gov, accessed 08/20/2021). Vaccines have proven to decrease severity of illness and fatalities from COVID–19. AmeriCorps NCCC members are increasing access to vaccines through their service. Programmatic improvements instituted 'in real time' to enhance their efforts will lead to even greater access and a healthier public.
