

1301 Constitution Ave. NW., Washington, DC. The EPA Docket Center Public Reading Room is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding legal holidays. The telephone number for the Public Reading Room is (202) 566-1744, and the telephone number for the OEI Docket is (202) 566-1752.

An electronic version of the public docket is available through www.regulations.gov. You may use the www.regulations.gov to submit or view public comments, access the index listing of the contents of the official public docket, and to access those documents in the public docket that are available electronically. Once in the system, key in the appropriate docket identification number then select "search".

It is important to note that EPA's policy is that public comments, whether submitted electronically or in paper, will be made available for public viewing online at www.regulations.gov without change, unless the comment contains copyrighted material, CBI, or other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute. Information claimed as CBI and other information whose disclosure is restricted by statute is not included in the official public docket or in the electronic public docket. EPA's policy is that copyrighted material, including copyrighted material contained in a public comment, will not be placed in EPA's electronic public docket but will be available only in printed, paper form in the official public docket. Although not all docket materials may be available electronically, you may still access any of the publicly available docket materials through the EPA Docket Center.

B. How and to whom do I submit comments?

You may submit comments as provided in the ADDRESSES section. Please ensure that your comments are submitted within the specified comment period. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked "late." EPA is not required to consider these late comments.

If you submit an electronic comment, EPA recommends that you include your name, mailing address, and an email address or other contact information in the body of your comment and with any disk or CD ROM you submit. This ensures that you can be identified as the submitter of the comment and allows EPA to contact you in case EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties or needs further information on the substance of your comment. Any identifying or contact information provided in the body of a comment will be included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket, and made available in EPA's electronic public docket. If EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties and cannot contact you for clarification, EPA may not be able to consider your comment.

Use of the www.regulations.gov Web site to submit comments to EPA electronically is EPA's preferred method for receiving comments. The electronic public docket system is an "anonymous access" system, which means EPA will not know your identity, email address, or other contact information unless you provide it in the body of your comment. In contrast to EPA's electronic public docket, EPA's electronic mail (email) system is not an "anonymous access" system. If you send an email comment directly to the Docket without going through www.regulations.gov, your email address is automatically captured and included as part of the comment that is placed in the official public docket, and made available in EPA's electronic public docket.

Associate General Counsel.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The draft toxicological review was prepared by the National Center for Environmental Assessment (NCEA) within the EPA Office of Research and Development (ORD). The public has been provided an opportunity to comment on previous external review drafts of the IRIS toxicological review of methanol. In January 12, 2010, EPA released an external review draft (EPA/635/R-09/013), containing both cancer and non-cancer analyses, for public comment. EPA later placed this external review on hold pending resolution of issues concerning a specific set of data used in the cancer analysis. On April 18, 2011, EPA released for public comment another external review draft (EPA/635/R-11/001) which contained only a non-cancer analysis. The data and studies used in the non-cancer analysis are unrelated to the issues concerning the cancer analysis. On June 22, 2011, EPA released an addendum to the April 18, 2011, non-cancer external review draft to provide the public an opportunity to comment on the incorporation of several new studies into the analysis. On July 22, 2011, Eastern Research Group (ERG), an EPA contractor for external scientific peer review, convened an independent panel of experts to conduct a public peer review meeting on the non-cancer external review draft of the toxicological review of methanol released on April 18, 2011, (EPA/635/R-11/001) and the addendum released on June 22, 2011.

The current draft toxicological review titled "Toxicological Review of Methanol (Non-Cancer): In Support of Summary Information on the Integrated Risk Information System (IRIS)" (EPA/635/R-11/001Ba), which will be posted on NCEA's Web site, has been revised in response to the peer review and public comments received on the external review draft released on April 18, 2011, and the June 22, 2011, addendum. This notice announces a new public comment period on the current revised draft toxicological review in advance of an upcoming peer review and in accordance with applicable information quality guidelines. The external peer review comments and EPA responses on the previous draft assessment are summarized in Appendix A of the draft. EPA is releasing this draft assessment for the purpose of public comment and peer review. This draft assessment is not final, as described in EPA's information quality guidelines, and it does not represent and should not be construed to represent Agency policy or views.

In addition to a second opportunity for public comment announced in this notice, EPA will also schedule a follow-up external letter peer review of the draft toxicological review of methanol and will announce the details of the peer review in an additional Federal Register notice or on the IRIS Web site. To the extent possible, the Agency intends the follow-up peer review to be conducted by the same experts that served on the July 22, 2011, peer review panel. The public comments received during the comment period announced in this notice will be provided to the experts that will conduct the follow-up letter peer review. The peer reviewers will be asked whether EPA adequately responded to the comments from the July 22, 2011, peer review panel. The letter peer review will include a public teleconference with a limited opportunity for the public to address the peer reviewers. EPA will announce the date, time and procedures for public participation in the teleconference in a separate Federal Register Notice or in an announcement on the IRIS Web site.

II. Information About IRIS

EPA's IRIS is a human health assessment program that evaluates quantitative and qualitative risk information on effects that may result from exposure to chemical substances found in the environment. Through the IRIS Program, EPA provides the highest quality science-based human health assessments to support the Agency's regulatory activities. The IRIS database contains information for more than 540 chemical substances that can be used to support the first two steps (hazard identification and dose-response evaluation) of the risk assessment process. When supported by available data, IRIS provides oral reference doses (RfDs) and inhalation reference concentrations (RfCs) for chronic noncancer health effects and cancer assessments. Combined with specific exposure information, government and private entities use IRIS to help characterize public health risks of chemical substances and thereby support risk management decisions designed to protect public health.
