Pursuant to sections 307(b) and 505(b)(2) of the CAA, a petition for judicial review of those parts of the Order that deny issues in the petition may be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit within 60 days from the date this notice is published in the Federal Register.

Petitioners submitted a petition requesting that EPA object to proposed CAA title V operating permit number 503–1001 issued by ADEM to the Barry Generating Plant for the following reasons: the permit contained limits with the potential to exceed the National Ambient Air Quality Standard for sulfur dioxide, including inappropriate averaging limits for SO₂, in contravention of applicable state implementation plan (SIP) provisions; the permit failed to include applicable SIP requirements to control fugitive emissions from the coal handling system and to ensure compliance with SIP opacity limit, including associated monitoring, recordkeeping, and reporting; the permit failed to include emission controls and work practice standards for the coal handling operations and ADEM failed to require that Alabama Power Company disclose all fugitive emissions from the coal handling system; ADEM failed to determine compliance of the facility; ADEM failed to require complete and accurate compliance certifications from Alabama Power Company in accordance with part 70; Alabama Power Company failed to include all applicable requirements in the application for a title V permit; and ADEM failed to provide a basis for granting a permit shield to the entire facility.

On June 14, 2022, the Administrator issued an Order granting in part and denying in part the petition. The Order explains EPA's bases for granting in part and denying in part the petition.

Dated: July 5, 2022.

If approved by OMB, renewals are typically granted a three-year extension.

Abstract: With limited exceptions, ocean dumping—the transportation of any material for the purpose of dumping material in ocean waters—is prohibited except in compliance with a permit issued under the Marine Protection, Research, and Sanctuaries Act (MPRSA). EPA is responsible for issuing ocean dumping permits for all materials except dredged material. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) is responsible for issuing ocean dumping permits for dredged material using EPA's environmental criteria, though for federal projects, the USACE may apply the environmental criteria directly in lieu of the permit process. All ocean dumping permits and federal projects involving ocean dumping of dredged material are subject to EPA review and concurrence. EPA is also responsible for designating and managing ocean sites for the disposal of materials and establishing Site Management and Monitoring Plans for ocean disposal sites. EPA collects or sponsors the collection of information for the purposes of permit issuance, reporting of emergency dumping to safety of life at sea, compliance with permit requirements, including general permits for burial at sea, for transportation and disposal of vessels, and for ocean disposal of marine mammal carcasses.

EPA collects this information to ensure that ocean dumping is appropriately regulated and will not harm human health and the marine environment, based on applying the Ocean Dumping Criteria. The Ocean Dumping Criteria consider, among other things: the environmental impact of the dumping; the need for the dumping; the effect of the dumping on esthetic, recreational, or economic values; land-based alternatives to ocean dumping; and the adverse effects of the dumping on other uses of the ocean. The Ocean Dumping Criteria are codified in 40 CFR parts 220 through 229. To meet U.S. reporting obligation under the London Convention, an international treaty on ocean dumping, EPA also reports some of this information in the annual United States Ocean Dumping Report.

EPA uses ocean dumping information to make decisions regarding whether to issue, deny, or impose conditions on ocean dumping permits issued by EPA in order to ensure consistency with the Ocean Dumping Criteria. EPA uses monitoring and reporting data from permittees to assess compliance with ocean dumping permits, including associated monitoring activities.

Form numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities: Respondents/affected entities may include any private person or entity, or state, local, or foreign governments.

Respondent's obligation to respond: Required to obtain or retain a benefit, specifically permit authorization and/or compliance with permits required under MPRSA sections 102 and 104, 33 U.S.C. 1402 & 1404, and implementing regulations at 40 CFR parts 220 through 229.

Estimated number of respondents: 2,488 respondents per year.

Frequency of response: The frequency of response varies for application and reporting requirements for different permits. Other than the general permit for transportation and disposal of vessels, response is required once for each permit application, whether a single notification to EPA or a permit application. Depending on the type of MPRSA permit, a permit application would be required prior to expiration if the permittee seeks re-issuance: general permit (once every seven years), special permit (once every three years), and research permit (once every 18 months).

Total estimated burden: The public reporting and recordkeeping burdens for this collection of information are estimated to be 3,298 hours per year. Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.3(b).

Total estimated cost: Annual costs are estimated to be $355,104, which includes $159,795 for labor and $195,309 for capital or operation & maintenance costs.

Changes in Estimates: There is no significant increase in the burden. There is a decrease of 198 hours in the total estimated respondent burden compared with the ICR currently approved by OMB. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in the average number of burial at sea activities reported over the last three years.

John Goodin,

Director, Office of Wetlands, Oceans and Watersheds.

The Report and Order prohibits future use of Universal Service Fund (USF) monies to purchase, maintain, improve, modify, obtain, or otherwise support any equipment or services produced or provided by a company that poses a national security threat to the integrity of communications networks or the communications supply chain.

On March 12, 2020, the President signed into law the Secure and Trusted Communications Networks Act of 2019 (Secure Networks Act), Pub. L. 116-124, 133 Stat. 158 (2020) (codified as amended at 47 U.S.C. 1601-1609), which among other measures, directs the FCC to establish the Secure and Trusted Communications Networks Reimbursement Program (Reimbursement Program). This program is intended to provide funding to providers of advanced communications service for the removal, replacement and disposal of certain communications equipment and services that pose an unacceptable national security risk (i.e., covered equipment and services) from their networks. The Commission has designated two entities—Huawei Technologies Company (Huawei) and ZTE Corporation (ZTE), along with their affiliates, subsidiaries, and parents—as covered companies posing such a national security threat.
