Consultation

A detailed assessment of the human remains was made by the Department of Anthropology, University of Alaska Anchorage professional staff in consultation with representatives of the Native Village of Atka.

History and Description of the Remains

In 1975 or 1976, human remains representing, at minimum, four individuals were removed from the Korovinski Site (UNL-063), Atka Island, Aleutians West Borough, AK. Human remains of three individuals and isolated human skeletal elements pertaining to a minimum to one additional individual were excavated by Douglas W. Veltre and colleagues with the permission of the Atkam Corporation under the Federal Antiquities Act permit #74-AK-024. Extensive interviews with Atka village elders were undertaken from 1974 to 1979. No known individuals were identified. No associated funerary objects are present.

Archeological, ethnohistoric, and oral tradition data all place this individual within the traditional territory of the Unangas (Western Aleuts) of Atka village. The Korovinski site is ancestral to the contemporary village of Atka, which was founded in the 1870s. The Aleut people have lived in this area for at least 6000 years, and are the only people associated with the Korovinski area.

Determinations Made by the Department of Anthropology, University of Alaska Anchorage

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background.— On November 19, 2003, the Department of Commerce (“Commerce”) issued an antidumping duty order on imports of refined brown aluminum oxide from China (68 FR 65249). Following the first five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective March 13, 2009, Commerce issued a continuation of the antidumping duty order on imports of refined brown aluminum oxide from China (74 FR 10884). Following the second five-year reviews by Commerce and the Commission, effective October 14, 2014, Commerce issued a continuation of the antidumping duty order on imports of refined brown aluminum oxide from China (79 FR 61606). The Commission is now conducting a third review pursuant to section 751(c) of the Act, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1675(c)), to determine whether revocation of the order would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry within a reasonably foreseeable time. Provisions concerning the conduct of this proceeding may be found in the Commission’s Rules of Practice and Procedure at 19 CFR parts 201, subparts A and B and 19 CFR part 207, subparts A and F. The Commission will assess the adequacy of interested party responses to this notice of institution to determine whether to conduct a full review or an expedited review. The Commission’s determination in any expedited review will be based on the facts available, which may include information provided in response to this notice.

Definitions.—The following definitions apply to this review:

(1) Subject Merchandise is the class or kind of merchandise that is within the scope of the five-year review, as defined by the Department of Commerce.

(2) The Subject Country in this review is China.

(3) The Domestic Like Product is the domestically produced product or products which are like, or in the absence of like, most similar in characteristics and uses with, the Subject Merchandise. In its original determination and its expedited first and second five-year review determinations, the Commission defined the Domestic Like Product as all merchandise corresponding to Commerce’s scope, as well as any refined brown aluminum oxide where particles with a diameter greater than $\frac{3}{8}$ inch constitute at least 50 percent of the total weight of the entire batch, as long as the product has been crushed, screened, and sorted into consistent sizes.

(4) The Domestic Industry is the U.S. producers as a whole of the Domestic Like Product, or those producers whose collective output of the Domestic Like Product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of the product. In its original determination, the Commission defined the Domestic Industry as all U.S. producers of refined brown aluminum oxide, with the exception of Great Lakes Minerals, which was excluded from the domestic industry as a related party. In its expedited first and second five-year review determinations, the Commission defined one Domestic Industry as consisting of all domestic producers of refined brown aluminum oxide.

(5) An Importer is any person or firm engaged, either directly or through a parent company or subsidiary, in importing the Subject Merchandise into the United States from a foreign manufacturer or through its selling agent.

Participation in the proceeding and public service list.—Persons, including industrial users of the Subject Merchandise and, if the merchandise is
